Increase in Smith staff, production

Good news was announced Tuesday by A.O. Smith Corp., Highway 3, which is to return to its 1973 level of production starting Monday.

A company spokesman announced all employees previously laid off have been recalled and there will be some additional hirings to fill the need. Employment at A.O. Smith by Monday is expected to reach 1,100.

He said production is to increase to three and one-half "lines" Monday morning, if all necessary arrangements can be completed.

A line is the equivalent of one production line operating eight hours. A.O. Smith Corp., which produces auto frames for full-sized General Motors cars, has two production lines.

As of Monday, both lines will operate on the morning shift, or first shift, and one and one-half lines will operate on the evening shift, or second shift.

The third shift, late night, must be reserved for maintenance, so the company's actual potential at full production would be four lines per day.

During early 1974, when gasoline prices began to rise rapidly, sales of full-sized cars slumped and A.O. Smith was forced to reduce production to one line per day.

"An increase in customer requirements has enabled us to increase production gradually until Monday when we will reach the 1973 level," the spokesman said.

He said the company has a sufficient number of job applications on file to fill most of the vacancies and others will be filled through the Illinois State Employment Service. The company is not requesting persons to submit applications at A.O. Smith at this time, he added.

Weather outlook

Mostly sunny this afternoon with high in mid to upper 60s. Clear and cool tonight. Low about 40. Friday clear to partly cloudy with high about 60. Turning colder Saturday and Sunday with high in low 50s. By Monday lows in the teens and highs in the 30s.

Jefferson ideals emphasized by Edgar Masters

(17th of a Bicentennial year Press-Record series)
Edgar Lee Masters (1892-1950) was an Illinois writer who, unlike his contemporaries Vachel Lindsay and Carl Sandburg, cast a jaundiced, somewhat unappreciative eye on the famous and the not-so-famous people of the state.

While growing up in Petersburg and Lewistown, Masters spent the summers on his paternal grandparents' farm where he developed a lifelong nostalgia for rural America and pioneer values.

His idealization of his grandparents and his particular attachment to a brand of Jeffersonianism which emphasized rural over urban, agriculture before industry, and limited rather than big government, focused his critical response to life in the twentieth century. A favorite theme of some of his more than 50 volumes of poetry, fiction, biography and drama published before his death was America's obsessive pursuit of material success and the abandonment of the Jeffersonian ideals of freedom and democracy.

As a youth, Masters attended public schools in Petersburg and Lewistown, read widely, spent one year at Knox College and, with his father's assistance, was admitted to the bar in 1899.

A year later he moved to Chicago, where he opened a law office.

For a time, he joined the firm of Clarence Darrow, from which he believed he could defend the poor and the oppressed against moneyed interests.

Although Masters produced poetry continually, he was

$2 million new facility in Madison

The Madison City Council Tuesday night agreed to lease a three-and-a-half-acre tract of land in the Stephen Macraes Industrial Park to Mike Petrosian of East St. Louis for construction of an industrial laundry plant.

The laundry plant will cost an estimated $2 million and will be designed to handle all types of laundry for hospitals and nursing homes, Petrosian said.

He told the Press-Record that the plant will be the only one of its kind within a 300-mile radius. Council members approved a letter of intent by the city to enter into the lease which, Mayor Mike Sasyk said, would mean the employment of approximately 70 persons from Madison.

Petrosian said he hopes to begin construction of the plant of 37,500 square feet in 30 to 45 days, and expects to begin operation by late May. The council passed a resolution expressing its appreciation and gratitude to Madison Police Officer Marvin J. Owca. Owca has resigned effective Friday to enter the industrial security field.

Owca said, "I hate to leave the department after five years, but I have to think of my family. The salary and other benefits offered far exceed those offered by the city."

Juvenile Officer Donald Bridick has been returned to uniform until a replacement for Owca is hired. No plans for replacing the police officer were announced at the council meeting.

"I know we are all in agreement that Marvin was a fine officer and a credit to the city. We hate to lose him but we just can't at this time compete with private industry. I do hope we can correct this soon," Mayor Mike Sasyk said.

"If you haven't read it in the papers yet, I want to call to the council's attention that Bruce Rotter, president of our police sponsored Explorers came back from Kansas City victorious in a rather difficult political campaign," Mayor Sasyk said.

"Rotter is now the Great Center Area Explorer chairman and as such gives leadership to nearly 14,000 explorers in 1,200 Explorer posts over a three-and-a-half state area."

"I guess we teach them the fine art of good old American politics and they then go out and put it into practice. We are very proud of our Explorers, their adult leaders and our policemen who work with and sponsor them," Mayor Sasyk said.

A letter from Ned L. Freeman, district executive of the local scout council, was read in keeping with February as Boy Scout month. The letter said that there are nine scouting units in Madison, led by 80 volunteers, with 74 Cub Scouts, 68 Boy Scouts and 35 Explorers.

OK bank zoning

The Granite City Council Monday night approved rezoning of a 14-acre tract of land at Pontoon and Maryville roads for construction of the proposed new Colonial Bank, but deferred action on a rezoning recommendation for location of a new auto sales and leasing operation at 3826 to 3830 Nameoki Road.

Council members first concurred in a recommendation by the City Plan Commission that rezoning of the land for the bank construction to C-1 commercial classification be approved, and then enacted an ordinance providing for the rezoning.

In the other case, however, the council delayed consideration of another City Plan Commission recommendation for approval of rezoning at the 3826-3830 Nameoki Road location because of differences with Thomas Hundley, operator of Hundley Auto Sales at 1801 Madison Ave., over efforts by Hundley to block use of 18th Street as a truck route.

Hundley had petitioned for the rezoning to locate a sales and leasing service at the Nameoki Road site. The Plan

Fred P. Schuman, retired chief circuit judge of the Third Judicial Circuit, alleged Tuesday that the judiciary has become involved in the Democratic primary and has offered William Johnson the position of associate judge.

Johnson had filed as a candidate for state's attorney in the March 16 primary and announced his withdrawal from the race on Feb. 15. He earlier filed to run for circuit judge but withdrew from that race.

Attorney Johnson, a Glen Carbon resident with a law office here, strongly denied Tuesday that he has been promised an associate judgeship.

"Political infiltration in the selection of judges must be brought out into the open," Schuman said Tuesday at a press conference at Sunset Hill Holiday Inn.

"On the last day prior to filing (Feb. 12) for the position of associate judge, I learned through courthouse conversation that Johnson had been offered the job."

"I did some personal checking and found out this to be true, from what I consider to be 'authentic sources.'"

"Johnson was not retained on July 1, 1975, by the eight judges when he was an associate judge.

Contrary to what some newspapers led everyone to believe, it was the politicians who were for keeping Johnson. It was the judiciary that wanted him out."

"I believe everyone should ask: Why is he given this position at this time?"

"I feel the court will be subject to severe criticism if he gets the appointment."

"To explain a little, associate judges were magistrates under the old system until 1970. Then they became associate judges. They can hear every case but felonies."

Air pact permits new furnace, jobs

A 43-page settlement agreement signed Monday by Granite City Steel and the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency will permit a prompt start on construction of a fourth slab re-heat furnace enabling yearly production to be increased by 750,000 tons.

The parties to the agreement said at a joint press conference Tuesday in St. Louis that the furnace will create 350 construction jobs for two years and 65 new permanent production jobs.

Granite City Steel President Robert D. McBride estimated during a talk at yesterday's Madison-Venice Rotary Club luncheon that the new slab furnace for the hot mill involves a $14 million expansion. A construction permit is to be issued soon by the state government.

The joint agreement calls for expenditure of another $17½ million solely for anti-pollution improvements.

McBride said Tuesday that $11,800,000 of the clean air program relates to the coke plant and $5,700,000 to the basic oxygen furnace shop.

In addition, a $2,250,000 boiler project devised to increase production efficiency also will aid air purification efforts, newsmen were told.

Dr. Richard H. Briceland,

Illinois EPA director, said construction permits will be issued for such projects because of confidence that the newly-signed clean air program will aid in substantially improving the air shed in this community.

From a 2-to-1 disparity with desired standards in some instances, the program will enable the Quad-City area to attain air quality superior to that required, Dr. Briceland said.

This will create a reserve allowing additional job-related proposals by various firms to be approved, he added. Dr. Briceland described the industry-state pact as "the most significant pact of its kind ever accomplished in Illinois and possibly the nation."

Impetus for the talks that began last June stemmed from federal regulatory trends and from a mutual desire by the state and company to bring about marked improvement in air quality in the vicinity of the plant, the press conference gathering was told.

John Russell Young, 61, of 2917 Forest Ave., died about noon Monday at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis.

Mr. Young was taken to the hospital by ambulance after suffering an apparent heart attack at work. He had been under a physician's care for a heart ailment.

A chemical operator at Mallinckrodt, Inc., St. Louis, Mr. Young had been employed by the firm for 29 years. He was a member of the United Automobile, Aerospace and Agricultural Implement Workers of America (UAW).

Born in St. Louis, Mr. Young had lived in Granite City the past 19 years. He was a U. S. Navy veteran of World War II and a member of St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Dorothy N. (Ditch) Young; two daughters, Mrs. Keith (Pat) Probst of Edwardsville and Miss Marion E. Young of Granite City; two sons, John R. Young Jr. of Florissant, Mo., and Charles J. Young of Weynesville, Mo.; a sister, Mrs. Lillian Cobb of St. Louis; two brothers, Charles J. Young of St. Louis and George A. Young of Sedalia, Mo.; and five grandchildren.

Funeral mass was held at St. Margaret Mary Church today. Details are given in the obituary column.

Evert Lowder dies Monday

Evert E. Lowder, 74, of Worden, Ill., formerly of Granite City, died at 9:30 a.m. Monday at County Memorial Hospital in Staunton, where he was taken from home a short time earlier. He had been ill the past year and was hospitalized on previous occasions.

A native of Mammoth Springs, Ark., Mr. Lowder had lived in Worden 10 years. Formerly he had resided for 16 years in Granite City.

He retired in 1965 from General Steel Industries here, where he was employed 16 years as a storekeeper. He was an Army veteran of World War One.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Anna Birmingham Lowder; three daughters, Mrs. Joyce Hand of Litchfield, Mrs. Nora Dedlow of Tucson, Ariz., and Mrs. Jesse Pickett of Waterloo, Ill.; one son, Robert Lowder of Waterloo; two stepsons, Walter Birmingham of Alton and Delore Birmingham of Decatur, Ill.; 19 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. today at a Worden funeral home. Burial was at Worden City Cemetery.

ELEMENTARY STUDENTS in Granite City will observe National Physical Education and Sports Week starting Monday and continuing through March 7. Plans for the event are discussed by Mayor Paul Schuler and Sandra Bowler, physical education instructor at Wilson School. A "Gym-Jam" is planned Saturday, April 3, at Nameoki Village and Crossroads shopping centers, featuring children from all local grade schools and coordinated by physical education staff members.

GC projects progress, mayor tells Rotarians

Progress on Granite City projects was outlined by Mayor Paul Schuler at the Tuesday noon meeting of the Granite City Rotary club in the YMCA.

Plans for a road from West Pontoon Road to Fehling Road, behind the shopping centers, have been approved, although it will be several years before it becomes a reality, he said. The new road will be named after the late alderman, R. E. Robertson.

The mayor said that the state is concerned about Illinois Route 3, and major improvements are scheduled in 1977-78.

A public hearing is expected to be held on the proposed railroad overpass between West Granite City and downtown within the next 60 days. In all probability, the mayor said, it will be built at the 19th Street site.

The extension of Maryville Road between Pontoon and Edwardsville roads will be started during the summer and will take about two years to complete at a cost of nearly $3 million, the mayor said.

Granite City has qualified for Community Development funds and will receive $20,000 this year and between $250,000 and $300,000 during the next couple of years. The mayor said the money will be used on city sewers and the overpass project.

A $100,000 grant has been approved for the rehabilitation of homes in the city, he noted. The grant will become effective in July. Arrangements for additional funds need to be worked out with local banks, he said.

The Rotarians were reminded that they have 995 tickets to sell for the March 9 Chili day at the Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

It was announced that next Tuesday Lionel Portelli, superintendent of streets, will speak to the club on the city's sewer problems.

Church burglary

Two digital clock radios and about $6 in change were stolen during a burglary at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue, between 5 p.m. Monday and 7 a.m. Tuesday, when it was reported.

The north double doors were pried open to gain entry. The door to the pastor's office also was pried open and one radio taken from that office. The other was taken from the secretary's office.

A key taken from the secretary's desk was believed used to open a soft drink vending machine in the basement of the church, from which the change was taken.

A full construction permit for the proposed 1,800,000 kilowatt nuclear generating station near Clinton, Ill., has been issued by the Federal Nuclear Regulatory Commission, W. C. Gerstner, vice president of Illinois Power Co., announced Tuesday.

Site preparation work at the 13,000-acre location six miles east of Clinton, under way since October of last year under a limited work authorization, will now shift to actual construction of the plant, a 5,000-acre cooling lake, and associated transmission facilities designed to help meet electrical loads on the IP system in the 1980s.

The schedule calls for the first 500,000 kilowatt unit to be completed in 1981, and the second in 1984. Total cost is estimated at $1,400,000.

Gerstner said the NRC construction permit will allow a "timely continuation of our work on the plant into a new construction season without undue delay between site preparation and actual building."

"Since October of last year, when the NRC issued its limited work authorization, we have been fortunate that weather conditions have allowed major advances," he said.

He enumerated the completion of a heavy-duty railroad siding into the plant area across Highway 54 to the north of the site, construction of plant area roads, and erection of temporary buildings for construction personnel.

One of the major accomplishments in the five-month LWA period is the excavation of 1,400,000 cubic yards of earth from the actual plant site.

GC schools to note PE Week

National Physical Education and Sports Week will be observed Monday through Sunday, March 7, in the Granite City elementary schools.

A proclamation was signed Tuesday by Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler setting next week for the observance locally. The event is sponsored by the National Association for Sport and Physical Education (NASPE).

Physical education staff members in local grade schools are planning to mark the week in various ways, and to celebrate the Bicentennial observance with a "Gym-Jam" on Saturday, April 3, at the Nameoki Village and Crossroads shopping centers. Participating in the "Gym-Jam" spectacular will be pupils from all elementary schools, coordinated by the grade school PE staff members, according to Sandra Bowler, PE instructor at Wilson School who is on the planning committee.

Highway project bids due March 2

The Illinois Department of Transportation will take bids on 70 road improvement projects and one waterway project on Tuesday, March 2.

Among projects scheduled for bidding at that time is the reconstruction of the intersection on Illinois 159 at Glen Carbon Road south of Edwardsville.

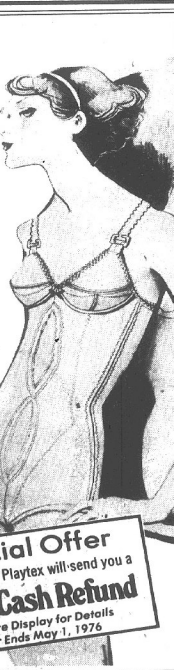

The DOT also has called bids on traffic signal modernization at the ramp terminals of U.S. Route 50 and Illinois 157 in Fairview Heights, and for removal of the abandoned railroad bridge carrying the Illinois Terminal Railroad over I-270 and a half mile west of Glen Carbon.

Construction of nuclear power plant to proceed

This area is now ready for back-fill with specially selected earth materials to support the foundations of the giant plant structures.

The 5,000-acre lake for cooling water is to be created by damming the Salt Creek and the North Fork of Salt Creek at a point just north of State Route 10 east of Clinton.

Preparation of recreational areas — beach, boat marinas, camping and hiking areas — an integral part of the plan, will move along with other activities, Gerstner said.

The construction permit follows hearings by the Atomic Safety Licensing Board on safety matters at Decatur in January. The same board allowed the limited work authorization last year after hearings on environmental considerations were conducted in Clinton and Champagne.

Baldwin Associates, a consortium of contracting firms, is building the plant under contract for Illinois Power.

If you're thinking of selling, the people to see are at Royce Realty, 2862 Madison Ave., 876-5050.

The same group constructed the 1,800,000 kilowatt coal-fired generating station at Baldwin, Ill., completed in 1975, and is at work completing a new 650,000 kilowatt coal-fired unit at IP's Havana station, scheduled for service in 1978.

Wendell J. Kelley, president of Illinois Power, first announced plans for the Clinton station at a public meeting at Clinton in October 1970 before any land had been acquired.

Later, it was determined that the plant would be nuclear and would consist of two 950,000 kilowatt units, with the steam supply to come from two General Electric boiling water reactors. An original schedule of 1980 operation of the first unit was deferred for one year because of regulatory delays.

Illinois Power has purchased 13,000 acres of land for the project. About 80 acres are still to be acquired.

The company, headquartered in Decatur, serves areas of 15,000 square miles in Northern, Central and Southern Illinois with electricity and natural gas. It provides both services in the Quad-Cities.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD Thurs., Feb. 26, 1976 Page 5

By FRANK R. RICE
President,
Southern Chapter
Illinois CPA Society
First in a series of articles on 1975 income taxes:
How can you hold down your income tax bill this year?
The same way you can, and should, do it every year: make full use of the four basic tools for reducing the income subject to taxes, for lowering the rate at which the tax is levied, and in some cases for having part of the tax forgiven. The four are:

adjustments, deductions, exemptions and tax credits.
Adjustments, such as sick pay and moving expenses, are attractive because they reduce gross income, leaving "adjusted gross income," a much smaller target for the tax collector to aim at.
Deductions (for taxes and interest paid, contributions, medical costs, etc.) are nice, too: They, and the exemptions we get for ourselves and our dependents, reduce adjusted gross income still further — to "taxable income."

In the meantime, what new tax-saving opportunities are available this year?
The big changes over the 1974 tax picture are:
—If you use the standard deduction instead of itemizing, you can now deduct 16 per cent of adjusted gross income, with a maximum of $2,300 for single persons, and $2,600 for couples filing joint returns or surviving spouses. For a married person filing a separate return, the maximum is $1,300.

—There's also a new minimum standard deduction of $1,600 for singles, $1,900 for married couples. But you don't have to compute it because it's built into the tax tables.

—The level of gross income below which you don't even have to file a tax return has been raised to $2,350 for singles, $3,400 for joint filers, $2,650 for a surviving spouse and $750 if married and filing separately.
(Each person over 65 years of age is entitled to an additional $750 exemption.)
—Because of efforts last summer to stimulate the lagging economy, all taxpayers, regardless of their tax bill, can subtract $30 from what they owe, plus another $30 for each dependent.

—Qualified low-income taxpayers, with adjusted gross income under $8,000, get a credit of 10 per cent of earned income, up to a maximum credit of $400 on $4,000 of earned income. They lose the credit at the same 10 per cent rate as their income rises above $4,000, so the credit is lost when earned income or adjusted gross income hits $8,000.
If the credit exceeds taxes owed, the excess is paid to the taxpayer like a refund. To qualify, you must have maintained a household in this country with at least one dependent child.

—If, in order to hold a job, you had to pay for the care of a dependent who is under 15 or disabled or your spouse, you may be able to claim up to $4,000 a year of such expenses, if your combined incomes did not exceed $18,000.
—If you bought a new home in 1975, under certain conditions, you may be eligible for a tax credit of five per cent of the purchase price, up to $2,000.

—If you sold a home, you have 18 months, rather than 12, to defer any capital gain tax by reinvesting in and occupying another home costing at least as much.
You have 24 months if you build a new home as the replacement, construction having begun within 18 months of the sale.
Next — Tax adjustments that

Andrew Reynolds received the Arrow of Light award at the blue and gold banquet hosted by Cub Pack 21 at the Madison Presbyterian Church last week.

The invocation was given by Jim Moore. Dinner was served to 100 people including guests, Mrs. Debbie Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Freeman, Ted Scrum and Joey Vaughn.

After dinner, Ned Freeman presented Pack 21 with its charter.

Other awards went to Andrew Reynolds, traveler, scientist and outdoorsman; Bobcat badge, William Blankley, Clarence Casteel and Dwayne Whitworth; silver arrow, John Dickerson; Forester and scholar, Raymond Burris Jr.; scholar and sportsman, Wesley Wuerley; citizen and scholar, Fred Trebling; and athlete, Clarence Casteel.

Barry Reynolds received a den chief award for assisting with the Webelos Den; James D. Newsom, athlete, citizen and sportsman; and Kevin Sipes and Leonard Harper, recruiting award.

One year pins were given to Mrs. Teresa Rhoads and Kenneth Sipes. Andrew Reynolds also received a certificate to enter the Boy Scout troop.

JOHN JONES
Aids March of Dimes

Sixth grader tops student collectors

The morning after 12-year-old John Jones received an envelope at McKinley School to collect coins for the March of Dimes, the youngster returned the folder to school containing a total of $8.75.

Mrs. Wilma Herring, chairman of the Granite City March of Dimes campaign, said John's contribution was the first to be returned and topped other participating pupils in the Granite City School District.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald L. Jones Sr., 220 Lee Ave., John is in the sixth grade at McKinley School.

Mrs. Herring said the boy decided to do all he could to help people less fortunate. "The same day he received the envelope John accompanied his mother to some type of function and took the envelope along, asking those present to help others by donating to a very good cause," the chairman said.

"He showed up at school the next morning bubbling over with enthusiasm and reportedly set a fine example to his fellow students by showing them what one person can do when he sets his mind to help others," Mrs. Herring reported.

John, a Press-Record newboy for two years, is also a member of his school's bowling team.

SUFFERS BACK INJURY
Richard Jasudowicz, 30, of Rural Route Two, Box 1032, Granite City, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 5:40 p.m. Thursday and was released after suffering a back injury in an auto accident.

George Andres named to Tri-City Port post

Andres is a registered professional engineer and received his engineering degree from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. He served as an engineer for the Illinois Department of Transportation.

Rites held for T. W. Candler Sr.

Burial was in St. John Cemetery, 2901 Nameoki Road.

Preparation of a site for an industrial park has begun with water lines and grading completed and landscaping due to begin this spring, he told club members.

A major development came in late March when negotiations were completed enabling the Tri-City Regional Port District to purchase the adjoining dock and warehouses from the Bi-State Development Agency, greatly expanding the handling and storage facilities of the local district, he explained.

Defending state champ Venice in title contest at Freeburg after 77-59 and 72-48 wins Venice High School swept through its first two tests in the Freeburg Class A basketball regional tournament, 77-59 over East St. Louis' Assumption Monday and 72-48 over Belleville's St. Henry last night — to earn a spot in the tournament's championship game for a fourth straight year.

The defending Class A state champion Red Devils will clash with the winner of tonight's 7:30 Madison-Freeburg game at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow for the regional title.

Venice started at a slow pace last night and led 13-8. A fast-breaking second quarter enabled Venice to work the ball inside to James Crowder for points, and it was 32-16 at halftime. Venice held a 54-30 third period before the fourth quarter's 18-18 standoff. Domination of the boards, 41-22, gave the Red Devils frequent possession. Their total included 23 offensive rebounds. From the field Venice shot 41 per cent, 30 of 72, and the Belleville squad 43 per cent, 18 of 41. Each side tossed in 12 free throws.

Fouls were even at 16 each, and Venice committed the most turnovers, 16-12. St. Henry's Stan Elfrink scored 27 points while Venice's Reggie Gardner paced the Red Devils with 21. Jaffee Woolfork scored 18 points, James Crowder 14, James Turner eight, Ron Salmond six and Larrick Arnold five. St. Henry had advanced into last night's contest with a 70-57 win Monday night over Columbia.

Venice and the Assumption Pioneers played to a 15-15 first-quarter deadlock Monday.

With a 25-23 lead in the second period, Coach Richard Essington switched from a zone to a man-to-man defense. The Devils held Assumption to five additional points while adding 13 for a 38-28 halftime lead.

Woolfork stationed himself to the left of the basket for 12 points in the second period on passes from Gardner and Turner.

Venice led 60-41 at the conclusion of the third quarter, and held a 77-48 fourth-period lead before Assumption scored the last 11 points of the game.

Venice led in field goals, 29-21, and free throws, 19-17. Assumption made the fewest fouls, 15-17. The Red Devils controlled the boards, 33-28. Woolfork scored 20 points, Gardner 16, Crowder, Turner and Salmond 12 each and Arnold, five.

Trojans in semifinal battle tonight following 96-54 win

Coach Larry Graham's Trojan cagers are hoping to avenge three seasons of frustrations at the Freeburg Class A regional meet by capturing tomorrow night's championship game there, but first Madison has to get past Freeburg in a semifinal contest this evening at 7:30 to advance to the title tilt against Venice.

Both of tonight's foes captured their opening round games — Madison 96-54 over Dupo and Freeburg 74-62 over Lenoire of Brooklyn, both on Tuesday night.

Freeburg has a 13-13 record, having lost its last three contests before winning Tuesday, and Madison is 23-2, winning its 15th straight game Tuesday.

The two schools have not met during the 1975-76 season. Against the Dupo Tigers, Trojan Ron Jones scored 12 first-quarter points as Madison led 26-10. His team led 47-23 and 73-31 after the second and third periods.

It was Dupo's second loss this season to the Trojans, who again displayed their massive reserve strength.

Madison shot 48 per cent from the field, 41 of 83, and Dupo 33 per cent, 30 of 69.

From the foul line, Madison hit 14 of 26 and the Tigers 14 of 25. Madison had the fewest fouls, 17-23, and fewest turnovers, 18-21.

MHS pulled down 44 missed shots to Dupo's 31, with Ron Jones getting 10 rebounds. Rodney Davis seven and Anthony Canada and Randall Jones five each.

Twelve different Trojans provided the scoring.

North, E. St. Louis regionals next week

GCHS South and North will vie in different Class AA basketball regionals for the first time this year. North will host its own regional and South will play at East St. Louis next week.

The North tournament at the Granite City Memorial Gymnasium, Nantux Road and Madison Avenue, will feature 7:30 p.m. games between Edwardsville and Wood River Tuesday, March 2, and between Roxana and North Wednesday, March 3, followed by the championship game Friday, March 5.

Regional winners from North, East St. Louis, Alton and Belleville will meet in the Collinsville sectional March 9-10.

Reserved seats will be $2 per game for adults.

Student (pre-sold) tickets will be $1.50 each for each game. All tickets sold at the gate will be $2; no "student tickets" will be sold at the game. Elementary school children must be accompanied by an adult.

Ticket sales began this week in the GCHS North main office. Other participating schools also are holding pre-game sales.

At East St. Louis, 4600 State St., it will be the hosts vs. GCHS South Tuesday, March 2. Lincoln of East St. Louis vs. Cahokia the following night and the victors meeting for the title Friday, March 5. All the games will start at 7:30 p.m.

CHAMPION STEELER. Sophomore Kris Whelan swept undefeated through last weekend's GCHS South sectional wrestling tournament in the 98-pound weight class, including a 9-0 decision over East St. Louis Lincoln's Jerome Watts for the title. He qualified for the state tournament at Champaign Friday and Saturday.

North quintet edges future tourney foe in double overtime

Coach William Ohlendorf's North High cagers Tuesday night got a sample of their first-round competition in next week's Class AA basketball regional to be hosted by the Steelers. In a home contest that required two overtime periods to decide a victor, North won 79-74 over Roxana's Shells, evening its record at 11-11.

North, seeded second behind Edwardsville, will meet Roxana in the Granite City Memorial Gymnasium Wednesday, March 3, in regional play. Edwardsville and Wood River open the tourney Tuesday, March 2. The initial victors will meet for the title March 5.

The Steelers held a 15-14 lead at the end of the first period.

Second-quarter shooting accuracy by North, 12 of 17 field goals and six of nine charity shots, gave the hosts a handsome 53-32 halftime advantage.

Larry Schleicher provided nine of North's points in the second period, and Jerry Barnett scored eight.

North led 56-48 going into the final period of play, but numerous turnovers aided Roxana. The visitors meshed 10 of 13 shots to the Steelers' four of 16 field goal attempts.

Outscored North 21-13. The visitors sent the game into overtime with a basket that provided a 65-63 deadlock.

It'll be alumni night Saturday as the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville basketball team concludes its 1975-76 season against the Blackburn College Beavers at the Edwardsville High Gym.

Prior to the varsity game at 8 p.m., which will also see the players' parents honored at halftime ceremonies, two teams of former SIUE varsity cagers will tangle in a game starting at 6 p.m.

On the Cardinal alumni squad will be such basketball players as Rich Essington, John "Champ" Summers, Denny Thorneburg, Jerry Doerner, Gene Bounds, Otis Ward, Dave James, Roy Whitthoff, James Nelson, Tony Johnson, Jerry Blaudau, Frank Ramsey and Sam Holmes.

Playing for the white-uniformed squad will be Thurman Perree, Leon Wright, Rick LaRose, Don Koppenhaver, Tom Butler, Mike Van Hecke, Keith McFarland and Terry Carlson.

Others who will probably see action are Dave Fisher, Bill Land, Steve Hutchison, Eddie Hightower and George Katich.

After the varsity game, the alumni group and parents will be given a reception at the Faculty Club on campus.

Coach Jim Dudley says, "Any former player who failed to receive an invitation will be welcomed to play. Just call me at the school. (692-3468) before noon Friday."

Police-firemen game Friday; players named

Glenn Wright, Granite City's Officer Friendly, has announced the players who will participate at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the fourth annual Granite City police versus Granite City firemen basketball contest in the Granite City Memorial Gymnasium.

For the police, it will be David Rosenberg, Fred Hoffman, John Apperson, Dennis Cheneault, Mike Murgie, Don Petrillo and David Anderson, with Roy Koberna as coach. For the firemen, Walter Schmitt, Tom Carmody, Mike Nesbit, Ray Romine III, Junior Mathis, Charles Bernaia, Ed Hagnauer, Rich Schardan, Robert Bell and Ron Ashby will play. Coaches will be Jim Rider and Ray Werth.

Tickets for the benefit game, from which funds will be used to sponsor sports teams and provide playing equipment for youths, are $1 at the door.

Lakers win park tourneys

Eighty-two basketball players, representing 12 teams comprising two divisions, have completed another season of the Granite City Park District youth cage program headed by Harry Briggs and Don Harris.

Six teams in each of two groups, third-fourth grades and fifth-sixth grades, participated in five weeks of competition ending this month.

League standings were: Third-fourth grades—Steelers 4-1, Warriors 3-2, Globe Trojans 3-2, Lakers 2-3, Cougars 2-3 and Spirits 1-4. Fifth-sixth grades—Spirits 5-0, Lakers 4-1, Flyers 2-3, Nets 2-3, Globe Trojans 2-3 and Blue Flames 0-5.

In tournament action concluding during the weekend—the Lakers defeated the Steelers 14-4 and then upended the Warriors 12-9. The Warriors had advanced to 15-10 win over the Globe Trojans.

In the older group, the Lakers defeated the Nets 26-18 and decided the Spirits 38-26 in the playoff championship tilt. The Spirits had won 34-26 over the Flyers.

Warrior tickets

Tickets for the East St. Louis Class AA basketball regional next week, in which the Warriors of GCHS South will participate Tuesday, are not available in the Quad-Cities. Warrior fans wishing to attend the games may purchase tickets at the door each night of competition.

E. Leyden, Richards, Bloom, GC North among schools with AA mat team championship hopes Yorkville and Franklin Park (East Leyden) could climb to the top of the all-around and accept the trophy bouquets of their respective enrollment classes this weekend in the 29th edition of the Illinois High School Association (IHSA) boys' state wrestling tournament in the spacious Assembly Hall, Champaign.

Always a school which produced wrestlers that played havoc with the "biggies" in the old one-class series, Yorkville has never won the Class A (for schools with enrollments of 750 or less) title since its inception three years ago.

But Coach Denny Haster's team advanced seven winners and a pair of runners-up from the sectionals and is the odds-on favorite to cop the title this time around.

East Leyden, consistently rated the top dual meet team in the state under Coach Chuck Farina, has won only one state title in the 39 seasons of the meet series—back in 1960—but will bring six sectional runners-up to the Assembly Hall in search of the Class AA (for schools with enrollments of 751 or more) crown.

There will be 50 schools with competitors in the Class A competition, out of 152 which entered the tournament series at the district level.

In Class AA, 243 schools sent competitors into district warfare, and 111 schools will be represented at the Assembly Hall.

First-round matches in Class AA competition will begin at 1 p.m. Friday on six mats. Class A first round matches and Class AA quarterfinal round matches will begin in Session No. 2 at 6 p.m. Friday.

Semifinals in both classes, along with wrestling, will start at noon Saturday. Third place and fifth place matches in the respective classes will commence with the opening of Session No. 4 at 6 p.m. Saturday.

The grand march of the finalists and their coaches in each class is scheduled to start at 7:10 p.m. Championship bouts in each class will start at 7:30 p.m. Saturday and will be conducted concurrently.

Season tickets at a reduced price of $6 each will be on sale at the Assembly Hall box office Friday morning. Single-session tickets, priced at $2 each, will be on sale at the Assembly Hall box office before the start of each session.

While Yorkville leads the Class A schools in qualifiers with nine, three other schools could garner the championship if Yorkville falters. All three qualified five individuals for the state tournament. They are: Normal (Univ.), runner-up last year, with four champions and one runner-up; Port Byron (Riverdale), which captured the sectional title as two-time defending Class A champion; Savanna finished third in the meet, with two champions and a trio of runners-up, and St. Joseph (Triad) with four champions and one runner-up.

Although East Leyden has the most qualifiers in Class AA, defending co-champions Oak Lawn (Richards) and Chicago Heights (Bloom) cannot be counted out. Richards advanced a pair of sectional champions and one runner-up, while Bloom advanced one champ and a pair of runners-up.

Meanwhile, Belleville (East) advanced two champions and a trio of seconds, and Orland Park (Sandburg) and Pekin each advanced one champion and three seconds. A surprise team could be Bloomington (H.S.), it advanced a pair of sectional champions, who are among favorites in their weight class.

GCNS North has two state entries and GCNS South, one. Following is a rundown of key competitors by weight in Class AA. The 192 entries include 24 unbeaten wrestlers.

96—Mike Farina of Elmhurst (York), who took third last year with a 30-2 record and who is the son of East Leyden Coach Chuck Farina, is one of three unbeaten in the class. The others are Bob Porter of Skokie (Niles West) at 24-0 and sophomore Fred Mariani of Bloomington (H.S.) at 33-0. Granite City North's entry is Sophomore Kris Whelan, sectional champion. His record is 33-2.

105—Two of last year's top six wrestlers at 96 have moved up to 105 and are paired in opposite brackets. Kevin Kick of Mundelein (H.S.) was fourth last year and is 25-1 this season, while Keith Whalen of Granite City North, a junior, was sixth last year and is 34-1 this campaign.

112—The most crucial match could be the opening bout between unbeaten Doug Schaffer of Sterling (Twp.) at 35-0 against last year's 105 runner-up Willie Staples of Maywood (Proviso East). Staples is 16-2-1 this season up a weight after going 32-1 last year at 105. The other unbeaten wrestler is Bobby Monroe of Chicago (Farragut) at 32-0, while Joe Williams of DeKalb, fifth at 112 last year, could be the class of the upper bracket.

119—Fred Ferrin of Romeoville, last year's 112 champion at 32-1 is 32-4 this season and faces 28-1 Tom Reed of West Chicago in the opening bout. Meanwhile, unbeaten Jimmie Gibson of Chicago (Marshall) at 31-0 meets Tom Best of Naperville (Central), who was third at 119 last year, in a lower bracket opening bout.

126—All three unbeaten in this weight are in the lower bracket, including two younger brothers of former state champions. They are Jeff Gerdes (29-0) of Oak Forest and Keith Fuebala (31-0) of Moline. The other unbeaten is 38-0 Rich Wilhelm of Buffalo Grove.

132—Defending champion Scott Trizzino of Joliet (Central), who was 32-0 last year, is 31-0 this season and could be the class of the field. The only other unbeaten at 132 is Ed Rogers of DeKalb, and they are paired in opposite brackets.

145—King Mueller, who could be the outstanding wrestler of the tournament, won at 138 last year with a 39-0-1 mark, was third at 132 in 1974 with a 33-1 record, and is 31-0 this year. Mark Smith of Waukegan (East), fourth at 132 last year, is 32-0 this season. They could meet in the semifinals. Mueller is from Bellingham.

155—Jim Morris of Glen Ellyn (Glenbard South), who was second last year with a 35-1 record, is 35-0 this campaign and is in the upper bracket with unbeaten Gilden McClom of Chicago (Parker) at 30-0 and Gregg Moore of Oak Lawn (Richards), who was third last year at 155 with a 30-3 mark and fifth at 145 in 1974 with a 12-1 record. GCNS South is represented by a senior sectional champion, Steve Avedisian, 25-6.

167—Phil Gulavich (33-2) of Libertyville, who was sixth at 167 last year with a 31-7 mark, battles unbeaten (34-0) Gehrig Dergo of Morris in the opening bout.

185—Gulavich's brother Greg, also unbeaten at 33-0, is one of three without blemishes on their records at this weight. Pete Christopoulos of Skokie (Niles East) is 20-0 and Dave Miller of East Peoria is 31-0.

Unlimited (heavyweight)—Five unbeaten could make this class the "creme de la creme" of the tournament. They are: Greg Gilbough of Rockford (East) at 35-0, Steve Solaja of Chicago (Washington) at 27-0, Dave Klemm of Lincoln at 32-0, Chandler Mackey of Harvey (Thornton) at 28-0 and Pekin's Bob Taylor at 34-0 this year after finishing sixth a year ago with a 35-3 mark.

In Class A, there are seven unbeaten wrestlers among the 96 qualifiers.

Following is a rundown of key competitors by weight in Class A.

105—Ernie Garcia of Chenoa, who finished fourth in 1974 at 98, brings a 28-2-1 mark into this year's 105 class, but Savanna's Pat Johnson (second at 105 last year with a 29-7 record) boasts a 25-6 mark, and Yorkville's Scott Corwin (third at 105 last year with a 30-4-2 mark) is 24-1 this season. Garcia and Corwin could meet in the semifinals.

112—Terry West of St. Jacob (Triad), fourth last year at 105, is 29-7 this season.

119—Stillman Valley's Colin Johnson was second at 98 last year and is a 31-8 this season. Bill Anderson of Bismarck-Henning is 21-0 and they could meet in the semifinals.

138—Unbeaten Mike Terrell (28-1) of Hamilton and Dean Miller of Normal (Univ.), who was second last year at 132, could meet for the title.

145—Unbeaten Chris Hines of Gibson City (29-0) and Mark Mitchell of Minooka (33-0), who was fourth at 138 last year with a 32-2-1 record, could meet in the semifinals.

155—Andy McCannan of Ashton took second at 145 last year with a 26-7 mark and is 30-5-1 this season. He won't fight until the state meet.

167—Joe Fiedick of Savanna, one of the top wrestlers in the state the past three years, won at 155 in 1974 with a 21-13 mark and was third at 155 last year with a 29-4-1 mark. He is 33-2-1 this season.

Fosdick meets Fisher's Gene Heap, fourth at 155 last year, in the opening bout, and then could square off against last year's 155 champion Tim Hultson of Normal (Univ.), who is 29-0 this season after posting a 31-3 mark last year, in the title bout.

Tuition hike is tax increase in disguise—Howlett

Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett, candidate for governor in the March 16 primary, has announced his opposition to a tuition increase at state institutions of higher education.

"What is a tuition increase? It is not a tax increase in disguise on those who would make use of a public resource?" Howlett asked. "We hear a lot of bragging about concern for education and no tax increases for the past few years."

"This increase, proposed by the Illinois Board of Higher Education, has gone forward over wave after wave of anguished protest. The BHE is an agency over which Governor Walker has hypothetical power. It is an act of supreme hypocrisy."

1975 AUTO STOLEN

Rose Bone, 3521 Northridge, informed police at 5:10 p.m. Monday that her 1975 Dodge auto, two-door hardtop with a beige vinyl roof and gold and brown in color, was taken from a parking lot at 20th Street and Cleveland Boulevard near the Granite City Public Library.

on his part to oppose a proposal of an agency for which he personally bears so much responsibility.

"One of our highest priorities should be educational opportunity for all our citizens. Even now, however, the Illinois scholarship system is at the brink of bankruptcy. How are the poor - and now the middle class - to have access to higher education?"

"One of the reasons we have had such difficulty lifting this nation out of the recession is that the middle class has been priced off the market on so many basic needs of life. As the father of six, I know what it is to face the high cost of education at all levels."

"As I look back on my youth, I remember how the fathers of families dreamed of giving their sons and daughters the chance to have a better life. "This meant not only the development of professional and business skills to improve their economic lot, it meant enriching their souls, so that their hearts and minds would be more gentle and humane."

"Education was the door that opened upon the fresh and expanding vistas of the American dream. Man's step upon the moon was not a sudden one; it drew upon the preserved, collected and revitalized wisdom of centuries. It also demanded breaking through new frontiers of knowledge through research and reflection."

"Now Walker's Board of Higher Education would have our students stepping onto the treadmill of the unemployment lines. This proposal would effectively close the door to educational opportunity, not only to our poorer families, but also to vastly enlarged segments of our middle class."

"This idea has been coming out of the BHE for the last three years. And for those three years the Walker administration has been talking out of both sides of its mouth about it."

"Don't they realize that a strong middle class is the backbone of our social system?"

Don't they realize that these citizens know what is happening to them?

"The middle class is now joining the poor in feeling that they are being left out. A tremendous disaffection, a deep resentment, is spreading upward in our social structure."

"If we make a higher education at our public institutions even more of a burden than it is at present, we are only going to deepen this sense of anger and bitterness. It is a sad and tragic comment on the present administration that this kind of proposal could get any official consideration, much less move as far as it has."

"The priorities of those who were appointed to oversee the health of our system of higher education have been tragically out of focus almost since the moment Walker took office."

"This tax increase in disguise has to be stopped. If I am elected governor I will do all in my power to keep the doors of educational opportunity open wide to all the citizens of this state who want to improve themselves."

Weight, measures inspection

Commercially used measuring devices in Granite City will be tested during the week starting Monday, which is National Weights and Measures Week.

Granite City Inspector Ernest Eli and Assistant Inspector Florence Warfield will test measuring devices in 16 grocery stores, 13 confectionery stores, four hardware stores and 36 service stations during the week. Even gasoline pumps are inspected and tested to assure the consumer is obtaining the proper amount of gasoline for the price he is paying.

If the measuring devices are correct, they will be approved and sealed. If they are incorrect, they are condemned for use until they are corrected and pass inspection. Each device is tested twice each year. Weights and Measures Week celebrates the anniversary of the first Weights and Measures Law passed by Congress and signed by President John Adams on March 2, 1790.

The law first was proposed by President George Washington in his first annual address to Congress, which already recognized such legislation was vital to the progress of the nation.

The message of Weights and Measures Week notes the devices, "protect the consumer against inaccuracy and are the guardians of the reputation and profit of every business that sells by weight or measurement."

Eli noted, if a weighing or measuring device is even a fraction overweight, it can cost the seller money. When a large volume of weighing is done, even a small fraction of a percent error can translate to thousands of dollars worth of products through repetitive use of incorrect devices.

"Every business and every citizen has a direct financial interest in knowing that all transactions are fair to both the seller and buyer. It is estimated that the average family of four has a stake of $200 or more per year in Weights and Measures enforcement," Eli added.

Nominate Fornaszewski

John Fornaszewski, a Granite City drummer, has been nominated as president of the National Association of Rudimental Drummers.

Since 1937, the NARD has been active in the field of education by lifting the quality of school drum sections through the standardization on the rudiments or the scales of drumming. The association has more than 3,500 members throughout the world. Starting at the age of 11 in the Granite City school system, Fornaszewski has wide experience in the field of drumming. He became a member of the NARD in 1957 while studying with Joseph Geraghty of St. Louis.

In 1956 he started teaching private lessons on a part-time basis, which by 1961 had grown into a full-time drum studio.

Aside from playing about 135 performing jobs a year and operating Fornaszewski Music Store, 3009 Nameoki Road, he works with and teaches his students six days a week. About 60 students pass through his door each week of which many are in various bands in the St. Louis metropolitan area.

Fornaszewski played with the Walt Schlemmer Orchestra for 13 years. The group disbanded last year. Fornaszewski is now the drummer in The Newtones, which has a newly-released record album featuring a drum solo, "Topsy, Part II."

Fornaszewski was born and raised in Granite City. He resides at 2124 Richmond Ave., with his wife Glenna and son, Stanley.

Aside from his own professional playing, from circus drummer to jazz drummer, John has given many percussion demonstrations at various schools. He is currently in the process of publishing a drum method book comprised of rhythms and lessons he has prepared over his many years of teaching experience.

Robt. Walsh new Illinois fire marshal

Gov. Dan Walker announced Monday the appointment of Robert C. Walsh, 57, of Bridgeport, (Lawrence County), as $25,000-a-year state fire marshal, effective March 1.

Walsh's career as a fire fighter began in 1924, when at the age of 16, he became a Bridgeport fireman. Six years later he was named assistant chief. In 1933 he helped form the Bridgeport Fire Protection District and since then has served the district as trustee, president and secretary. He now serves as treasurer of the district.

Walsh also helped form five other fire protection districts in the Lawrence County area since 1956.

He has been a member of the board of directors of the Illinois Association of Fire Protection Districts since 1959.

In announcing his appointment Walker said, "I believe Bob Walsh will bring to this office a greater sense of fiscal responsibility. He has headed a fire protection district which for five years has had no bonded indebtedness or any other debts except current expenses."

Walsh will have direct supervisory control over 44 deputy marshals responsible for more than 12,000 yearly fire safety code inspections and a five-man arson investigation team.

The State Fire Marshal's office is one of six divisions within the Department of Law Enforcement. Harvey N. Johnson Jr., is director.

Walsh's additional duties will include the administration of training for the state's 21,000 volunteer firemen through the Firemanship Training Commission in Springfield.

Steal 2 radios

Citizens' band radios were stolen from two cars at the Arlington Heights Apartments, Arlington Heights, early this week.

Charles Sparks, apartment 24a, reported his $184 radio was taken from his car after the right rear window was pried open. Edward Dennis Jr., apartment 24d also said a vent window was pried open and his $200 CB radio was removed. There was considerable damage to the dashboard of Dennis' auto.

Sophisticated state computer

Michael J. Howlett, secretary of state, last week officially opened his office's new computer installation at a ribbon cutting ceremony at the Division Parkway facility in Springfield.

"Our office successfully completed a conversion of all of its computer operations to a totally new system Dec. 29 while continuing to supply uninterrupted service to the people of Illinois," Howlett said.

Called 6800, it is the largest system Honeywell has installed outside the federal government. It is believed that the conversion of the secretary's computer programs and information files constitutes the largest project of this kind ever undertaken successfully. Early in 1973, Sec. Howlett's Management Services Department (MSD) conducted a study that determined a need for additional capabilities from its computer system, the most important being "Failsoft." One of the features of a "Failsoft" system allows it to continue to process work, answer inquiries and perform other functions, even if some components have malfunctioned or are having routine maintenance performed on them.

The study also determined a need for a system with the capacity to support an increasing volume of transactions, or telecommunications messages, which are expected to double in the next five years. The computer supports a wide variety of functions, both in the internal administration of the office and in cooperation with law enforcement agencies.

Its primary internal use is in the issuance of driver licenses, license plates and titles, and maintenance of related files. In addition, it supports state library, commercial, office accountability, personnel and legislative functions. Driver license, motor vehicle registration and LEADS (Law Enforcement Administration Data System) represent 85 percent of the load on the new system.

A telecommunications interface, or link, between the LEADS computer and the secretary's computer allows for rapid retrieval of both vehicle and driver information.

Telecommunications, the ability to transmit computer messages across telephone lines, extends to cathode ray tubes (CRTs), which give visual contact with records on a screen. Use of CRT terminals in the secretary's office has expanded at a rapid rate.

In January 1972, the secretary of state had 47 terminals connected on-line to the computer. Today, there are more than 200.

The new computer has the capability to support future systems already in the planning stage.

One, Drivers Information System (DIS), is a network of mini computers and terminals which will provide service to drivers license facilities throughout the state. The result will be instant issuance of drivers licenses, Howlett reports.

"This program will have at least 233 CRTs and 218 printer terminals installed in service facilities, bringing the total number of terminals to 700 by the end of the year."

"By providing newer and better ways to issue driver licenses and license plates, the computer will provide cost savings and better service in future administrations," Howlett said. "This office will continue to run its computer operations in a cost-effective manner... doing the best job possible for the dollars spent."

7 divorces

Seven Quad-City area couples have obtained divorces in Madison County Circuit Court. Divorced were:

Gary William Vandever from Ruth Marie (Bradley) Vandever, both of Granite City. They were married Jan. 31, 1975, and separated Feb. 5, 1976. Mental cruelty was charged. Her former name was restored.

Stockman from Terry Claytus Stockman, both of Granite City. They were married April 19, 1969, and separated in July 1974. Mental cruelty was charged. Custody of one child was granted to the mother.

Linda Ruth (Hamilton) Barron from Granite City from Leonard Melvin Barron of Pontoon Beach. They were married June 28, 1969, and separated in January 1976. Mental cruelty was charged. Her former name was restored.

Sarah Louise (Baldwin) Scott of Granite City from Melvin Elton Scott of St. Louis. They were married Dec. 19, 1963, and separated May 24, 1976. Mental cruelty was charged. Custody of four children was granted to the mother.

Henry Richard Thomas of Granite City from Marie Velma (Prien) Thomas of Ferguson, Mo. They were married June 11, 1948, and separated Jan. 11, 1974. Mental cruelty was charged.

Betty Mae (Gibson) Brewer of Cottage Hills from Paul Kendall Brewer of Granite City. They were married July 16, 1951, and separated in August 1975. Mental cruelty was charged. Custody of one child was granted to the father.

Mary Elizabeth (Bell) Brown from Granite City. They were married March 28, 1963, and separated June 15, 1974. Mental cruelty was charged. Custody of three children was granted to the mother.

Area carpenter apprentices to display skills

Carpenter apprentices will display their skills during a seven-hour period Saturday when they construct small scale houses for the Carpenters, District Council of Madison County and vicinity's annual apprentice contest.

The event will begin at 8 a.m. at the district hall, 901 West Chain of Rocks Road, Mitchell, and the houses must be completed by the end of the seven-hour period.

Each small house will have a gabled roof, overhang, an entryway, stairs and other details, constructed from blueprints supplied at the start of the competition.

The public is invited to attend and watch the contestants, according to union officials.

Judge 'deal'

associate judge was required to file for retention and the eight judges voted on their retention. "I was a judge for over 21 years and chief judge for three and a half years until I retired in September 1975. Just prior to my retirement, I was advised by the Illinois Supreme Court that our circuit was going to be allowed to add another associate judge."

"I had been working to add this position for some time. I have always fought to improve the court. I want to make sure the best judicial system possible."

"The salary for the position in question is $37,500 and this seems fair. But why do we only have five applicants? Why can't we attract more lawyers?"

"Selection of the court must be given to another source. We're lucky that we have some really good judges."

"I don't believe judges should have to run in partisan elections. There should be a separate listing for judge candidates with no party label."

"The Supreme Court of Illinois is considering the selection of judges in a commission, made up of citizens and lawyers, to be appointed by the governor of the state. A non-partisan group—in my opinion would be a good step."

"I had been called out of retirement by Roy O. Gulley, administrative director for the Illinois Courts, to preside on a case that has been in court 1968. But I have withdrawn from the case in order to speak out on this matter. I will not sit with my robe on and make statements against the label."

"Those who have applied for the position in addition to Johnson are: Roland W. Griffith, a former Madison County state's attorney; Helen Moorman, an assistant public defender in Madison County; Samuel Sanders, a Godfrey attorney; and Sylvester Carter an attorney in East St. Louis."

When an associate judge position is open, applicants are sent to all lawyers in Illinois giving them a chance to file."

The applicants will be voted on by the eight circuit judges to determine which is to be appointed."

The Third Judicial Circuit serves Madison and Bond Counties.

A television, a radio and a quantity of clothing, all with a total value of about $275, were stolen from a Norfolk & Western Railroad tool and bunk car in the rail yards near the Cloverleaf Addition south of Madison, it was reported at 12:20 p.m. Monday.

Commission approved the petition in a hearing Feb. 19 and recommended to the council Monday night that the rezoning be approved.

Several weeks ago, Hundley was among 26 persons who petitioned the City Council to eliminate use of 18th Street as a truck route and to halt plans for enlargement and signalization of the intersection of 18th Street and Madison Avenue to facilitate the movement of heavy truck traffic into the 18th Street truck route.

Hundley was present at the council session Monday night when Alderman Warren Decatur of the council's Planning and Zoning Committee presented the Plan Commission recommendation for granting the Nameeki Road rezoning.

Decatur made a motion to concur in the recommendation, but before a vote was taken, Alderman Emerald Daves of the Seventh Ward interrupted Hundley in the audience.

"When are you going to get those trees out of that plot (on Nameeki Road)," Daves asked.

Hundley explained that he has a contractor ready to move a pile of trees on the site, but noted warmer weather will be necessary to thoroughly dig the ground.

"The trees are frozen to the ground and we haven't been able to move them during the winter," Hundley said.

At this point, Alderman Steve Basarich of the Fifth Ward who has spearheaded the movement for the rezoning of the 18th Street truck route, asked:

"Are you the same Hundley who signed that petition against the truck route?"

"I am," Hundley replied.

"Are you planning to move out onto Nameeki Road," Basarich queried.

Hundley said that was true. "Then I can't understand all this stuff of you saying the truck route would damage your windows and that sort of thing," Basarich said. "If you are going to move out to Nameeki Road, how can the truck route bother you?"

Basarich then turned to the council members.

"I think we ought to look into this thing a little further," he said. Basarich then moved for deferral, an action that automatically halts further debate on an issue throughout the meeting. The topic may be discussed again in future meetings.

The rezoning request for the bank property at Pontoon and Maryville roads was submitted by Attorney Maurice Dailey, representing the First Granite City National Bank. The tract formerly was zoned for single family residential use. Dailey explained the bank

Chouteau to ask donors to furnish new town building

Plans for soliciting public contributions to help furnish the proposed Chouteau Township Community Center and Town Hall building were discussed by members of the township's Bicentennial Committee and the Town Board of Auditors during the board's regular meeting Monday night.

The committee told the board it plans to use the Bicentennial funds to help furnish the building by asking for contributions from individuals and businesses.

Any donor of $50 or more will have his name placed on a permanent metal plaque which will be displayed in the building when it is constructed.

It also was noted all donations will be acknowledged by the township.

The town board is using a combination of federal revenue sharing funds and its portion of the Madison County Community Development grant to construct the building, but is not expected to have enough surplus to purchase such items as equipment, tables and chairs for the community center.

Noting the building is to be completed during the Bicentennial year, the Bicentennial Committee voted to dedicate the building to the observance and seek citizens' participation in obtaining the furnishings.

Although no specific plans have been made for the fundraising drive, identification papers are to be prepared for persons who will be soliciting homes or businesses.

Betty Lavelle, chairman of the township's Bicentennial Committee, warned Quadtians to request anyone seeking solicitations for the township to show his identification papers before offering a contribution.

She said anyone wishing to help in the project or having questions about it should address their inquiries to her, in care of the township office at 825 Thorngate Drive.

The town board members also were invited to attend a special meeting with the Community Development officials and Madison County Highway Department officials at 7 p.m. Monday in the Mitchell Fire Hall to discuss the county's new road reference and sign identification program.

The program is designed to uniformly designate all streets running through and between townships and to assign 100-block coordinates to each aid emergency vehicles in answering calls to homes.

Some opposition is anticipated since the program will necessitate quickly renaming several streets. The officials Monday are to discuss which roads and streets should have uniform names through and between townships so any direct road will have the same name from one end of Madison County to the other.

Townships are to submit their final name designation to Madison County Superintendent of Highways Lester Miller by March 15, so the various township naming plans can be coordinated by the county.

After the official names have been determined, the county, using Community Development funds, will erect street name signs at most intersections. The signs also will have the 100-block north and east designations to aid emergency vehicles in finding a location.

The numbering will begin at the southwest corner of the county and will proceed north and east with 100-block designations for each major street.

After the program is completed, persons calling for emergency vehicles in the county will be requested to designate the address, street and the north and east 100-block coordinates.

The Chouteau Town Board agreed to hold its annual town meeting April 13 at the Fun and Sun Beach Resort building.

A murderer congratulates himself for lying next to his victim, the village drunkard is pleased to be buried next to the banker, and a loose but good-hearted woman recalls she was never summoned before the judge without contributing $10 to the school fund.

There are a few noble spirits, including Masters' grand mother. She bore 12 children, remained faithful to her husband, and lived to age 96, regularly maintaining that "it takes life to live life."

The storm of controversy which followed because of the irreverence of the work, its personal and sexual references, could not deny its brilliance, a level never again reached by Masters.

Never before had small-town life been examined so intimately.

Dorinda Book (1920) and its sequel The Fate of the Jury (1929), from poetic surveys of American history in which Masters departed from his democratic tendencies and attacked "mobocracy."

These volumes are considered by many to be his most profound works.

They were followed by a series of novels and biographies detailing Illinois and Midwestern themes; despising Chicago; debunking Lincoln;

and criticizing Mark Twain for not being critical enough of the urban industrial life.

As an Illinois writer, Masters was forced to pronounce on Lincoln, which he did in Lincoln: The Man (1931), a vigorous attack on the Lincoln myth.

"He was a stick-bug," Masters wrote, "he made needless war, he ruined the institution of the republic."

"He was the main figure of the fake-log cabin, used by centralists, grabbers, monopolists, bankers, Hamiltonians."

Masters much preferred Stephen A. Douglas to Lincoln, which he made clear in his novel Children of the Market Place (1922).

But if poets touch the souls of people, perhaps Masters was more profound than he knew when he concluded, "... Lincoln was a poet, and Douglas was not."

"And though people pay no attention to poetry they give it silent tribute and love it by preferring Lincoln to Douglas."

Masters' best biography is Vachel Lindsay: A Poet in the Wilderness (1935), in which he writes affectionately of his less-critical friend.

He provided an insightful review of life in an Illinois village through his autobiography, Across Spoon River (1936), and ended his lifelong portrayal of Central Illinois with an affectionate, but accurate, of the New Salem country, The Sangamon (1942).

The Sangamon River of Central Illinois, wrote Masters, is "not navigable, not noted for its commercial activity, not distinguished for majestic scenery, nor for a battle, nor for a single historic event, distinguished for nothing but for good and useful lives lived along its shores, and for the beauty of its prairies that sleep and bloom and wave their grasses to the passing winds."

Left to itself, the prairie and its people have a way of mellowing even the most bitter, and accurate, cynics.

VAN IS LOOTED
Items valued at about $575 were stolen from the van of Les Jackson, 2012 Illinois Ave., parked at his home, it was reported at 1:05 p.m. Sunday. The left vent window was pried open to gain entry. Stolen were a pistol, assorted clothing, a camera, a telephone recorder, a quantity of costume jewelry and a combination radio and tape player.

virtually unknown as a writer until the Spoon River Anthology appeared in 1915.

That volume, by the time of its author's death, had been translated into eight languages, made into an Italian opera, and gone into 70 editions, a compilation by Sangamon State University shows.

The book consisted of 244 free-verse epigrams revealing the lives of former inhabitants of the Spoon River, a not-so-imaginary town drawn from Masters' knowledge of the Petersburg-Lewisport area.

From their graves the former residents confess the real motivation of their lives—unscrupulous bankers, corruptible editors, hypocritical politicians, lawyers conspiring with judges to defeat the claims of the powerless, and churchmen who became agents of vested interests.

A murderer congratulates himself for lying next to his victim, the village drunkard is pleased to be buried next to the banker, and a loose but good-hearted woman recalls she was never summoned before the judge without contributing $10 to the school fund.

There are a few noble spirits, including Masters' grand mother. She bore 12 children, remained faithful to her husband, and lived to age 96, regularly maintaining that "it takes life to live life."

The storm of controversy which followed because of the irreverence of the work, its personal and sexual references, could not deny its brilliance, a level never again reached by Masters.

Never before had small-town life been examined so intimately.

Dorinda Book (1920) and its sequel The Fate of the Jury (1929), from poetic surveys of American history in which Masters departed from his democratic tendencies and attacked "mobocracy."

These volumes are considered by many to be his most profound works.

They were followed by a series of novels and biographies detailing Illinois and Midwestern themes; despising Chicago; debunking Lincoln;

and criticizing Mark Twain for not being critical enough of the urban industrial life.

As an Illinois writer, Masters was forced to pronounce on Lincoln, which he did in Lincoln: The Man (1931), a vigorous attack on the Lincoln myth.

"He was a stick-bug," Masters wrote, "he made needless war, he ruined the institution of the republic."

"He was the main figure of the fake-log cabin, used by centralists, grabbers, monopolists, bankers, Hamiltonians."

Masters much preferred Stephen A. Douglas to Lincoln, which he made clear in his novel Children of the Market Place (1922).

But if poets touch the souls of people, perhaps Masters was more profound than he knew when he concluded, "... Lincoln was a poet, and Douglas was not."

"And though people pay no attention to poetry they give it silent tribute and love it by preferring Lincoln to Douglas."

Masters' best biography is Vachel Lindsay: A Poet in the Wilderness (1935), in which he writes affectionately of his less-critical friend.

He provided an insightful review of life in an Illinois village through his autobiography, Across Spoon River (1936), and ended his lifelong portrayal of Central Illinois with an affectionate, but accurate, of the New Salem country, The Sangamon (1942).

The Sangamon River of Central Illinois, wrote Masters, is "not navigable, not noted for its commercial activity, not distinguished for majestic scenery, nor for a battle, nor for a single historic event, distinguished for nothing but for good and useful lives lived along its shores, and for the beauty of its prairies that sleep and bloom and wave their grasses to the passing winds."

Left to itself, the prairie and its people have a way of mellowing even the most bitter, and accurate, cynics.

Heart Fund drive

Volunteer workers in the Heart fund drive will be active during the weekend with door-to-door solicitations and road blocks.

In 1973, a reported 1,062,160 persons died of heart and blood vessel diseases, which is 54 per cent of all the deaths from all causes," Lt. Col. George Teller of the Granite City Police Department, said.

Teller, who is area chairman for the Heart Fund, said, "It is estimated that 28,830,000 Americans have some major form of heart and blood vessel disease. These figures point out the need for the Heart Fund."

"You never know when or where heart problems will develop. Officer Glenn Wright on March 22, 1972, was credited with saving a man's life in a court room. The man was in court as a result of having four charges placed against him. He collapsed while sitting in court. Officer Wright applied proper first aid."

In Madison, members of the fire department, under the leadership of Chief Eldon Rhoads, will have a road block at Sixth Street and Madison Avenue on Friday, and will go door-to-door on Sunday, beginning at 1 p.m.

Officer Wright and members of Explorer Post 10-33 will have a road block at 23rd Street and Madison Avenue from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. on Saturday.

Also working in Granite City is Homer A. Huber, president of the Associated Retailers and Civic Association, who is heading up the drive among businesses.

Seventh Ward Alderman Ronald Coleman is serving as general chairman for the Granite City area.

Volunteer Heart Fund workers also will be soliciting funds in Venice during the weekend under the leadership of Officer Mikolasz, assistant chief of police.

THEFT FROM GARAGE
Items worth a total of about $174 were stolen from the unlocked garage of C. L. Gibson, 2643 E. 23rd St., it was reported at 2:15 p.m. Tuesday. Stolen were a saw, a buffer and a set of motorcycle headers.

Briceland applauds clean air progress

Following is a statement Tuesday by Dr. Richard H. Briceland, director, Illinois Environmental Protection Agency:

We and Granite City Steel reached an agreement Monday that will both substantially reduce the company's air emissions and create new jobs.

It is the most significant settlement of its kind ever accomplished in the state of Illinois and possibly the nation. It represents a solution for all of the major air emission problems of a major steel company's complete facility.

It provides a framework for long-term improvement of ambient air quality in Granite City, and for solving the problems of other industries in Illinois.

The agreement was reached voluntarily, after eight months of negotiations.

It represents our joint recognition of the difficulty of finding a practical and economically reasonable solution to a complex problem. It avoids the waste of time, effort and money and the interminable delays involved in litigating this matter.

This is in sharp contrast with the methods of those who think lawsuits are the only way to solve environmental problems.

The agreement, which must be approved by the Illinois Pollution Control Board, will reduce particulate emissions from the steel company's coke oven batteries and basic oxygen furnace shop.

In the past, there has been a significant problem with the concentration of particulate matter in the ambient air in the Granite City area. The concentration has consistently exceeded health-related primary standards.

Because of the poor air quality, we have been unable to issue permits that would allow the construction of new industry.

Robbery charge filed against Madison man

David King, 17, of 1810 rear Sken St., East Madison, was charged Monday with the Jan. 19 armed robbery at Junior's Drive-In, 1317 Edwardsville Road.

Two robbers wearing ski masks and having black grease smeared on their faces and hands entered and one displayed a small pistol, taking about $125 from the cash register.

They also searched one customer's wallet for money and threw it on the floor when they found none. A second customer was asked if he had any money and said he did not.

Police from Madison and Granite City arrested King and another young man at King's home Feb. 19 and charged them with theft, after allegedly finding four stolen tires and wheels in their possession.

Officers then began questioning King and allegedly found information linking him with the Junior's Drive-In robbery.

King was taken at 3:20 a.m. Tuesday to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

$200 theft loot

Antiques and other items, with a total value of about $200, were stolen from the garage of Clarence Baumeyer, 2111 Bryan Ave., it was reported to police. The burglary was the second in less than a week at the garage. Attempts to pry open a door and break a window were unsuccessful. Entry was gained by breaking a north window and tearing off boards nailed over the window.

Stolen were cast iron trunks and a cast iron horse, a tray of old campaign buttons, other trays, silver dollars and other items. Baumeyer sells antiques and had been storing the items in his garage.

Do 'homework' before purchasing appliances

By DR. ROWENA LUTZ
Consumer Information Director
Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville

Our modern life-style depends on appliances to make our lives more enjoyable and our work easier.

Many of the major appliances require a large investment of money. Some increase the demand for resources such as electricity, gas and water. In an era of decreasing resources this should become a major consideration when shopping for a new appliance.

Also, consider what jobs the appliance will successfully perform? Is it convenient to use? Does it save time and energy? Is it necessary? How much does it cost to operate? Can you afford the purchase at this time? How will it be paid for - cash or credit? The Money Management Institute suggests the following

Jeffrey Reiter joins Air Force

Jeffrey Reiter, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Reiter of Granite City, has joined the U. S. Air Force in ceremonies held in St. Louis.

Airman Reiter left for Lackland AFB, Tex., for six weeks of basic military training. Upon completion of this training, he will attend an eight-week course of training as fuel specialist, which is his chosen field, at Chanute AFB, Ill.

Airman Reiter is the fiancé of Miss Sandra Smith of Granite City, and is a 1973 graduate of Granite City North High School. Information about the Air Force may be obtained from Sgt. Mike Kimberlin at 1394 Niedringhaus Ave., Granite City, or phone 876-5225.

Howlett reception tomorrow

Michael J. Howlett, Democratic candidate for governor in the March 16 primary election, will meet with area business and labor leaders at a reception tomorrow, according to his 12-county campaign coordinator, Senator Sam M. Vadalabene. The reception will be held at the Lewis and Clark Restaurant, Illinois Highway Three, East Alton, between 5 and 7 p.m.

Tickets for $25 are available for the event and may be purchased at the door.

"Although Mike Howlett is certainly no stranger to this area, there are still many people who want to meet him and express their support for his candidacy," Vadalabene said.

"We want to give everyone an opportunity to hear the issues from Mike Howlett in person. His integrity has withstood the most vicious kind of public distortion; he has the administrative ability to handle the tremendous problems faced by this area, particularly in economic development and job improvement."

"With his understanding and compassion, Howlett has proven that he is the man to lead Illinois out of the wilderness created by the state administration," Sen. Vadalabene concluded.

Police recover auto, capture two suspects

Two young men have been released without charges being filed pending further investigation into an auto theft case Monday.

Charles Rains, 2402 Illinois Ave., said he was in Sammy's Tavern, 921 Niedringhaus Ky., when someone stole his plaid coat from the back of his chair. Keys to the car were in the pocket of his coat, he said.

Later, he noticed the car had been taken and notified police. Officers saw the car on West Pontoon Road near The Colonades and a squad car chased it to Old Alton Road and Maryville Road. There, two young men jumped out of the car and ran into the woods.

Police said license plates on the auto had been changed. Madison County sheriff's deputies aided Granite City police in searching for the young men. About 35 minutes after the car was abandoned, deputies were alerted that someone had called for a taxi cab at a nearby Mitchell restaurant.

A deputy investigated and arrested a young man who was wet and was wearing a coat matching the description of the one stolen from Rains.

The young man was brought to the Granite City police station for questioning. Nearly an hour later, a second suspect was found and arrested. He also was wet, as though he had been hiding in woods, authorities said.

Officers alleged that, when they were booking one of the young men, they found "brass knuckles" in his possession.

At 9:15 p.m. Monday, police noted, the young man was found hanging in his jail cell. Officers rescued him and he was not seriously hurt.

One suspect was taken Tuesday to Edwardsville for further questioning by deputies and later was released.

Police said they are contacting the probation officer of one of the young men to determine whether he has violated terms of his probation.

Madison girl arrested on 2 theft charges

Neva Powderly, 17, of 913 Madison Ave., Madison, appeared in court in Granite City at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday and her bond was set at a total of $1,000 on two felony counts of theft.

She was arrested earlier this month in Edwardsville, allegedly in a car stolen from Earl Penrod, 2183 Orville Ave., from the parking lot of Corral Liquors, 3304 Nameoki Road, Feb. 22.

After being returned to Granite City authorities, a Venice Police Department warrant was served on her, alleging she stole the auto of Vernon Brown, 901 Fourth St., Venice, from Brown's home Jan. 4, 1976.

She allegedly was a guest overnight in the Brown family home and the car keys disappeared when she left. The auto was recovered in a parking lot in East St. Louis.

Choral program

Seven Granite Cityans will be among those in a vocal music spotlight next week at SIUE. They are: Marilyn Bernick, alto; Hyang Jwa Kim, alto; Nancy McCommis, soprano; Sherry Mitchell, alto; Jeanne Pieper, alto; Phil Spence, bass; and Daniel Vizer, tenor. All are members of the University Chorus.

Twentieth Century American choral music will be featured in a program presented by the University Chorus and Community Choral Society on Monday, March 1.

The program, sponsored by the department of music of the SIUE School of Fine Arts and Communications, will begin at 8:15 p.m. in the Communications Building theater.

The evening's music, directed by Leonard Van Camp, professor of music at SIUE, will open with the University Chorus performing Horatio Parker's "City of High Renown" from Hora Novissima, followed by Charles Ives' "Psalm 90" featuring Dan Vizer, Granite City, on keyboard with Kevin Barrett, Florissant, and Mike Sewedo, East St. Louis, playing the chimes.

The chorus will conclude the presentation with Norman Dello Joio's "Mass" from Thomas Paine," assisted by Hyang Jwa Kim, Granite City, at the piano.

Following a short intermission, the Community Choral Society will perform Van Camp's arrangement of three Southern hymns, which include "Come, Thou Fount of Every Blessing" (based on Warren-ton), "My Savior, In a Manger" (based on Expression) and "I Know That My Redeemer Lives" (based on Antioch by U.S. Woods).

The Community Choral Society will conclude the program with William Schumann's "A Free Song."

Brewers meet

Tony Vesel and Chuck Leholz of Vesel, Inc., Granite City, attended Momentum '76, the Miller Brewing Company's 1976 national sales conference, held at the Hyatt Regency Hotel in Chicago ending this week.

Distributors reviewed environmental concerns affecting the brewing industry, the financial outlook for Miller, marketing strategies and advertising plans for 1976. Miller President and Chief Executive Officer John A. Murphy discussed 1975 accomplishments and outlined 1976 objectives.

Miller is an operating company of Philip Morris, Inc. Brands include Miller High Life, Lite, Miller Malt Liquor and Meister Brau. Miller also distributes Lowenbrau beer nationally under a multi-phase agreement with Lowenbrau Munich, 600-year-old German brewery.

VEHS THIEF FLEE

Carl Stucke, 2505 Washington Ave., heard the door of his auto slam outside of his home at 2:05 a.m. Wednesday and looked out a window to see a young man fleeing with a tool box from the car. The tool box and tools were valued at about $85. The young man, about 20, was about 6 feet tall and was wearing blue denim pants and a blue denim jacket. He ran down the alley between Hodges and Washington avenues, Stucke reported.

Meet on women's career, life goals

A conference for women who would like to reexamine their life aspirations and goals will be held at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Tuesday, March 2.

The conference, sponsored by the regional Council on Interinstitutional Cooperation (CIC) and the General Studies division at SIUE, will be held in the Mississippi-Illinois Room of the University Center from 9 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. The CIC is an organization of educational institutions, including Belleville Area College, Blackburn College, Greenville College, Lewis and Clark Community College, McKendree College, Parks College of St. Louis University, SIUE and State Community College. Two representatives from each CIC institution will participate. Professional counselors and resource people will be available to help women explore possibilities facing them for the rest of their lives. Some of the questions the workshop experience will aid women in exploring, a spokesman said, are: "Where am I now? Where will I be in five, 10 or 20 years from now?" "Am I living my life the way I'd like and the way that fits me and my family? Am I faced with an 'empty nest' with few salable skills? Should I go back to school or back to work? How would my family react if I did? Are there alternatives I haven't yet considered?" A panel of women from diversified life situations will share their experiences with the audience. Among them will be: a happy housewife, a professional volunteer, a working mother and a woman attending college in preparation for a business career. The workshop will include a film, "Back to School, Back to Work," plus small group discussions led by a professional staff, and interest-assessment tests. Registration is limited to 100 participants. A registration fee of $10 will cover the cost of all materials used during the conference and lunch. Applications for attending the conference may be made by

THEFT FROM AUTO
A $500 color television set was stolen from the auto of Fred Painter, 1406 Grand Ave., parked in the Jacobsmeyer's Tavern parking lot at 2401 Edwards St. It was reported at 10:45 p.m. Tuesday. Witnesses reported seeing a light-colored station wagon stop near Painter's car about the time of the theft.

World Day of Prayer at Madison Methodist Church Women United in the Quad-Cities will observe World Day of Prayer on Friday, March 5 at the United Methodist Church of Madison, 5th Street and Ewing Avenue, beginning with registration at 9 a.m.

As is the custom each year at this time, the local group will join in a chain of prayer with millions of people in 169 countries. The worldwide service is sponsored by the International Committee for World Day of Prayer, which has appointed Church Women United as the official sponsor of the celebration in the United States.

Mrs. John Gordon, coordinator, has announced the theme of this year's observance, "Concerns of the World," will touch upon problems in such areas as Ireland, China, Angola, Greece and Guatemala, as well as in our own Quad-City community. Participating in the program will be Mrs. Lee Stevens, Mrs. Alfred Krumsick, Mrs. Don Pierson, Mrs. Chris Kefalas, Mrs. Walter Padgett, Mrs. Ronald Pennell, Mrs. Clyde Lester, Mrs. Dorothy Linberger, Mrs. William Metcalf, Mrs. John Brinkmeyer, Mrs. E. Roberts, Mrs. Archie Williams, Mrs. John Boston and Mrs. David Parrish.

The public is invited to attend the celebration, which will be preceded by a 9:30 a.m. coffee hosted by the women of the Madison church under the direction of Mrs. Robert Graves.

The Rev. J. Michael Smith is pastor of the local church.

Bridal shower for Kathy Grisham

A pre-wedding party complementing Miss Kathy Grisham was given this week at St. John United Church of Christ.

Hostesses were Mrs. Charlene Pohlman and Mrs. Marie Boyer, assisted by Mrs. Thelma Suess and daughter, Roni.

The honoree, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Ray Grisham, 82 Shirwin Drive, will be married March 20 to Thomas Burns, son of Mrs. Norma Burns, 2613 Sheridan Ave.

The bridal party colors of apricot, mint green and yellow were used in the table appointments and room decor. Games were played and favors were awarded.

Among the guests honoring Miss Grisham were Mesdames Lil Grisham, Norma Burns, June Painter, Christine Turner, Martha Welker, Connie Simpson, Marilyn Edwards, Loretta Rakowski, Donna Schaffer, Betty Bishop, Mary Jones, Mary Lou Hudson, Loydene Davis, Pat Cicci, Blanche Bayer and

Lisa Morlen; Misses Shelly Pohlman, Donna Roseman, Kim Hunt, Elaine Noeth, Debbie Winfield, Carol Grisham, Debbie Welker, Shelly Opich, Jill Edwards and Cindy Edwards, all of Granite City. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Laverne Holshausen and daughter, Chris, Troy; Mrs. Oma Rhine and daughter, Gena, Eldorado, Ill.; Mrs. Ray Nell Grisham and daughter, Cindy, Johnston City, Ill.; and Mrs. Rosalie Blomquist, Mrs. LuAnn Flota, Mrs. Anne Heuvelman and Mrs. Shirley Rhine, all of Alton.

THEFT FROM TRUCK

A citizens' band radio and a tool box and tools, all with a total value of about $380, were stolen from the truck of John Archer, 128 Voight Place, Mitchell, parked at Richard's 76 service station on West Chain of Rocks Road, it was reported Monday.

North High Band concert Monday

The Granite High North Concert Band, under the direction of Robert D. Todoroff, will present the third in its series of four concerts Monday at 8 p.m. in the cafeteria at North High School.

The hour-long concert will include a representation of offerings from a number of musical periods, including the Baroque, Classical, Romantic and contemporary periods, as exemplified by Baroque—Bach's "Chorale and Prelude"; Classical—Offenbach's "Madame Favarte Overture"; and contemporary—Zdelich's "Lyric Statement" and Clifton Williams, "Sinfonians March."

Featured on the program will be "Variations for Tuba and Winds" by Frankenpohl, performed by senior tubist, Ruth Fisher, with band accompaniment; "Blues in 64" by Weinstein; "Elvis Presley in Concert," as well as other representative works.

Admission is by season ticket or $1 for adults, 50¢ for students and 10¢ for band students at the door. The public is invited to Home alarm system discussed

An alarm system for home burglaries and fires was the topic of a program presented members of the Ladies Coterie who gathered last week at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ.

President Mrs. Alfred Pape introduced the guest speakers, J. W. Leigh, sales representative, and M. Lee Reiser, residential security consultant, of the American District Telephone Co. They showed slides and demonstrated models relating to the home-originated program.

Mrs. Lindell Hagaman read the club collect and Mrs. Keith Edwards recited the pledge to the flag followed by members singing "America the Beautiful," led by Mrs. E. F.

Reiske.

Mrs. Pape presided at the business session as members agreed to donate funds for a speech scholarship for a North High School student to attend a summer program.

She added the Coterie Club will join other area clubs in hosting the spring Madison County Federated Women's Club meeting on March 31 at the First United Presbyterian Church.

A donation also was approved for the Officer Friendly Athletic and aid youth in sports activities.

Mrs. Fred Haug gave the closing prayer. The March meeting will be held at the First United Presbyterian Church with Mrs. Ray Horn serving as hostess.

A dessert luncheon was served to 22 members by Mrs. R. E. Chapman.

Loretta Rose becomes Mrs. James S. Miller

Wedding vows were exchanged at 3 p.m. Feb. 14 by James S. Miller and Loretta Rose, both of Granite City, at the United Methodist Church in Hartford.

The Rev. L. C. Priebe officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Attending the couple were Mrs. Carry Sherman and Milton Sherman.

Her attendant selected a coral suit ensemble. Both wore white cymbidium orchid corsages.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Rose Wright of Madison.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, resides in Mitchell.

A dinner for the wedding party was served at Ralph and Charlie's Steak House.

The bride is employed at Libson Shops in St. Louis and her husband works for Merchants Dispatch.

World Missions Conference

First Assemblies of God Church is conducting its annual World Missions Conference this week. Guest speakers will address the congregation at 7 p.m. beginning today and continuing through Sunday.

During 1975 the church gave more than $25,000 to World missions programs, according to C. Dale Edwards, pastor.

Ministries represented in the convention this year are from Belgium, Lebanon, Taiwan, Nigeria, South America, India, Illinois Colleges and Universities, Teen Challenge (Drug Addicts), and the American Indians.

Sunday at the 10 a.m. service, Rev. David L. Grant, missionary evangelist, will speak. Rev. Grant has been to 55 nations of the world in the past eight years, spending three and a half years overseas in crusades, evangelism seminars, primarily in the nation of India.

In stateside ministry, Evangelist Grant has preached revival campaigns, camp meetings, conventions and youth camps across America.

He has helped build 10 churches in India as a result of these evangelistic campaigns and presently supports over 100 young national preachers in Bible Schools across Asia.

A Saturday evening service will be the occasion for showing the film "Outpouring in Indonesia." This film shows the cost and reward involved in missions.

The public has been invited to attend the services.

70 attend UPW guest luncheon

A guest salad luncheon was served at the First United Presbyterian Church to the United Presbyterian Women at noon Tuesday.

Table decorations were in the Bicentennial theme.

Mrs. Louise Orr, president, welcomed the members and guests. About 70 persons attended the event.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Robert Landis, assistant pastor of First Presbyterian Church.

Following the luncheon, Mrs. Isabel Schmidt played the piano for group singing of patriotic hymns.

Mrs. Marie Gordon reviewed the creative period in commerce and growth 1782 to 1789, as recorded in the Oxford History of the American People by Samuel Eliot Morison.

Members of the committee which arranged the event were Mrs. Virginia Rickert, Mrs. Bernadine Coley, Mrs. Arline Fox, Mrs. Mable Clark and Mrs. Barbara Potts.

The Rev. Landis closed the meeting with a benediction.

Gonzalez fund dance March 6

The fourth annual Joseph M. Gonzalez Scholarship Fund dance will be held at 8 p.m. Saturday, March 6, at the Mexican Honorary Commission Hall, 1801 Spruce St.

Donations of $1.50 per person will be asked at the door. Music for dancing will be provided by the Wayne Scannell Band and Mexican food will be available, the organizers said.

Mr. Gonzalez, a Granite City High School guidance counselor, was fatally injured in an automobile accident in June 1970.

The fund, established in his memory by the Mexican Honorary Commission, provides two scholarships each year to students at either Granite City high school.

Francis Scott Key portrayal Sunday

St. John United Church of Christ, 2901 Nameki Road, will continue its Bicentennial commemoration at the 9 a.m. and 10:20 a.m. worship services Sunday.

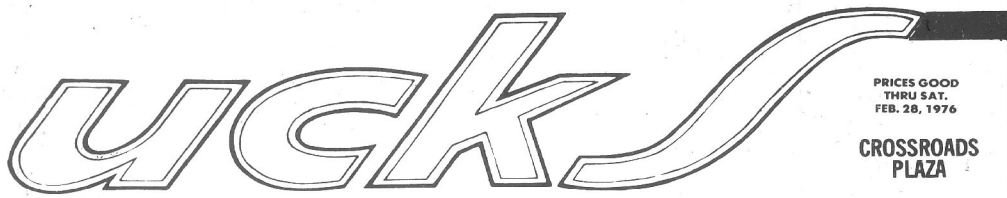

Ninth in the continuing Bicentennial series, Sunday's presentation will focus on Francis Scott Key, author of "The Star Spangled Banner."

Chuck Gauen will portray Key in period costume, and reenact the scene where Key composed the words to the national anthem.

Steve Sues, Bicentennial publicity chairman, said Mrs. Georgia Surbey will sing "The Star Spangled Banner" at both services.

The Chancel Choir under the direction of Mrs. Irene Barrick will perform the anthem, "If My People Will Pray," also at both services.

The Rev. Paul R. Surbey, pastor, will deliver the morning message, entitled "The Secret of Greatness—Seeing, Believing and Expressing God's Will."

Rescue truck funds released

The Nameoki Town Board of Auditors voted Monday night to release $7,500 of its revenue sharing to the Long Lake Fire Protection District to aid them in financing a new rescue truck and rescue equipment.

Although the sum previously had been appropriated for the fire district, the board declined to release the funds until it received clarification of a rule stipulating revenue sharing can not be used in conjunction with other federal funds, in some cases.

Since the rescue truck is to be financed with a combination of the township's revenue sharing funds and with $33,707 of the Madison County Community Development grant, the board sought a clarification of the guidelines from Mary Kane, head of the county's Community Development office.

In a return letter to the town board, she offered more recent guidelines which were studied by the township's attorney, H. Carl Runge Jr., and he said he felt it would be within the guidelines for the Long Lake Fire Protection District to combine the funds for the rescue truck.

Runge is to give further consideration, however, to a request from the Pontoon Beach branch office of Coordinated Youth Services for the township to use revenue sharing to purchase a van the branch needs to transport youth.

It was noted federal funds other than Community Development monies are used to help finance the Coordinated Youth program and some of them may be in conflict with the revenue sharing guidelines. Runge is to issue a written opinion on the question.

In other business, the board approved a loan of $5,000 from the town fund to the township's Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund to relieve a shortage in that fund.

Norman Hessler, chairman of the finance committee, reported the committee has been preparing the township's budgets for this fiscal year and will meet Tuesday, March 2, to further consider the budgets.

Asked if the committee is giving consideration to a request for a $9,600 revenue sharing appropriation to help start a volunteer police department in the northern area of the township, Hessler reported the committee is carefully studying the request and petitions signed by persons who wish such a department to be started.

The proposed Nameoki Volunteer Police Unit, operated as "supervisors of safety" under the Madison County Sheriff's Department, plans to patrol Nameoki Precincts 3, 5 and 11, to provide increased police protection in those areas.

About six volunteers have completed training with the sheriff's department and have qualified as supervisors of safety, who would be empowered to regulate traffic, make arrests and carry out other duties while assisting the sheriff's deputies.

The township extended a similar grant to reactivate the former State Park Police Unit 33A. The money was used for a board withheld a $478 bill from Radi-Corn in Troy for radio equipment for the State Park Unit, requesting information from the department how the purchases were made.

After reviewing prices the department obtained for the equipment, the board agreed to pay the $478 bill and another $40 bill from Radi-Corn for a control panel.

Contracts totaling $256 also were awarded by the board to the National Peace Officers' Press to supply miscellaneous items to the State Park Police, including blankets, fire extinguishers and flashlights.

Payment of $504 to Madison County also was approved as the final payment of the township's share of the cost of constructing a new bridge in State Park Place.

Board members agreed to seek a second set of bids on purchasing a new side mowing unit for the highway department. The first bids were rejected when the apparent low bidder explained the price quoted was far too low, due to a typographical error in the bid.

At its previous meeting the board agreed to convert its insurance coverage on the town hall, its contents and on a storage shed from separate policies into one policy from Official Risk Insurance Co.

Auditors were informed by letter Monday night that the requests to cancel the former policies and refund any unused premiums had been received and the policies would be canceled as soon as the township returned the policy booklets to the carrier.

Town Clerk Douglas Teator said he would return the policy booklets.

Bills approved for payment included $5,661 from the town fund, $8,462 from revenue sharing, $5,579 from road and bridge funds, $1,032 from the special hard road fund, and $2,277 from general assistance.

Free adult classes

Nelson Hagnauer, Madison County Board chairman, announced this week that the adult learning program for high school equivalency (ALPHE) will be revising its class schedule for tutoring adults preparing to take the General Education Development examination.

ALPHE is a tuition-free program made possible through funding in the Office of Manpower Development under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act. Daniel Churovich serves as director of the office.

Individualized instruction, conducted by certified teachers for an unlimited time span, is offered at all classes.

Two new classes will begin Monday, March 1: Abel Hall, 2821 E. Broadway, Alton, and Meadow Heights Southern Baptist Church, 1898 Vandalia, Collinsville. Both classes will meet each Monday from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

The Venice Recreation Center, Broadway near Fourth Street, previously held an evening class. Beginning March 3, however, classes in Venice will be Wednesday afternoons from 1 to 4.

A new class has been started at Nameoki United Presbyterian Church, 1700 Pontoon Road, Granite City. Adults may attend this class every Wednesday from 12 noon to 3 p.m.

In addition, classes are conducted in the following centers in Madison County: Olin Westerker Club, Powder Mill Road, East Alton — Tuesday, 4:30 p.m.-7:30 p.m. Alton YMCA, 2300 N. Henry, Alton — Mondays, 9 a.m.-12 noon.

Wood River Township Hall, 33 S. 9th St., East Alton — Mondays, 1 p.m.-4 p.m.

Civil Defense Building, Main and Schwartz, Edwardsville — Tuesdays, 1 p.m.-4 p.m.

Northgate Homes, 80 Burlington, Collinsville — Wednesdays, 9 a.m.-12 noon.

Weisheimer Community Center, 100 Main St., Highland — Thursdays, 9 a.m.-12 noon.

Grace Baptist Church, 2600 Edwards St., Granite City — Thursdays, 12 noon-3 p.m.

Interested adults wishing to study for their GED may visit any of the sites. For further information, they may call 692-4597.

60% rule for judges upheld

The 1970 Illinois Constitution's requirement of a 60 per cent vote for a judge to be retained in office was upheld Monday by the U. S. Supreme Court.

The justices agreed with a three-judge federal court that the rule does not deny equal protection of the law. A former circuit judge defeated in 1974 although receiving 59.8 per cent support had challenged the necessity of a three-fifths margin.

RONALD BLATZ' NAME
SON CHRISTOPHER ADAM Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Blatz, 532 Jefferson St., Venice, are announcing the birth of their second son, Christopher Adam Blatz, born Feb. 14 at St. John's Mercy Hospital, Creve Coeur, Mo.
The child weighed nine pounds, 15 ounces. Maternal grandparents are Fred and Ann Diepholz of Old Ripley, Ill., formerly of Venice, and paternal grandparents are Paul and Rose Beasley, Eldon, Mo., formerly of Granite City.
The Blatz couple also has an 11-year-old son, Steven Blatz.

Girl, 8, suffers disease usually caused by birds

Jill Erwin, 8, of 39 Mikel Drive, Arlington Heights, is struggling to overcome the disease histoplasmosis, a disease usually caused by breathing fungus in the dust from bird droppings.
Jill, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Erwin, became seriously ill about Christmas and was in St. Elizabeth Hospital one week and Cardinal Glennon Hospital, St. Louis, five more days before doctors could determine the cause of her illness.

She suffered chest pains, headaches, enlarged liver and spleen, and a constant low-grade fever. Fearing the effects of the only known medicines would be worse than Jill's symptoms, doctors sent her home for rest, to allow her body to fight off the disease without drugs.

According to her mother, "Jill seems to be improving, but still runs the temperature. She has her good days and her bad days."

Jill, a third grader at Lake School, tried to return to school for two days in January, but said she did not feel well enough to continue. Since then, her teacher, Eleanor Bonatt, has been tutoring her one hour each day after school.

Jill's mother believes Jill has had the disease since school started. "She has not felt real good since she started school," she said.

Horace Calvo appreciation party Monday

Approximately 400 persons are expected to attend an "appreciation party" for Circuit Judge Horace Calvo of Granite City who is seeking reelection on the Democratic ticket in the March 16 primary election.

The party, sponsored by the Calvo for Circuit Judge Committee, will be held at Charles Restaurant from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. Monday. Cocktails and hors d'oeuvres will be served. Tickets are $15 per person.

Lieut. Gov. Neil Hartigan will speak at the event, as will Robert Gibson, secretary-treasurer of the Illinois AFL-CIO. Gibson is a former Granite Cityan.

A spokesman for the Calvo committee said Wednesday that Calvo was endorsed this week by Local 16 of the United Steelworkers.

BREAK INTO BUILDING
A tool box and assortment of tools valued at more than $1,000 were stolen from a U. S. Corps of Engineers storage shed near Locks 27 on the Chain of Rocks Canal, it was reported at 1:30 p.m. Monday. Entry was gained by breaking a window in the shed.

TAPE DECK TAKEN
An eight-track tape player valued at $62, tapes valued at $40 and two speakers were taken from the unlocked auto of David Milton, 2017 Bryan Ave., it was noted at 6:45 a.m. Saturday.

Area represented at Lutheran meet

Local area Lutherans were represented at the Southern Illinois District of The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod (LCMS) confronted two related controversial issues at its convention in Belleville Friday through Sunday.

Serving as representatives of Concordia Lutheran Church, Granite City, were Paul Halbert, lay delegate, and the Rev. Arvin Twietmeyer, pastor.

The convention affirmed the controversial stance of the Rev. Dr. Herman Neunaber, district president, in his support of congregations who call men as pastors even though they have not been endorsed through official synodical channels.

It also declined to consider a resolution which would have recognized the self-proclaimed Seminary in Exile (Semines) as a "legitimate seminary for training for pastoral ministry."

Two Semex graduates are serving as ministers in district congregations, although they have not been officially endorsed.

Free films Monday at Venice Library

Four films will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Venice Public Library auditorium as part of a series of free movies scheduled on the first Monday of each month.

Next Monday's offering will include: "Centennial USA," a color film showing activities currently underway in different parts of the nation; "Ben and Me," concerning Benjamin Franklin; "Televisionland"; and "Wyeth Phenomenon," an American artist.

The public is invited to attend and admission is free. Mrs. Sybil Robbs, librarian stressed.

Venice Library is a member of the Lewis and Clark Library System. The film series is presented as a public service by the Venice Library Board.

St. Margaret Mary Brownies take tour

After the tour refreshments were served to the following: Cheryl and Monique Dufsky, Christine Loyel, Stacey Tucker, Amy and Wendy Knollman, Kara Kosoy, Cindy Brown, Trisha Costello, Samantha Clark, Juli Seannell, Shelly and Laurie Saltich, Crista Parkinson, Nicole and Kristine Bausch, Robin and Cristy York, Ann Zikovich, Mary Ruth and Angie Grabowski.

Adults in charge were Donna York, Pat Knollman, Linda Saltich and Gerri and Harry Clark.

Solve 14 crimes
Granite City police announced Tuesday that the arrests of a 17-year-old and a 15-year-old boy in connection with an armed robbery have resulted in clearing up a total of 14 crimes.

In addition to the armed robbery, questioning of the youths and the searching of one home yielded evidence which led to the solving of six auto burglaries and seven stolen car cases, dating between late 1973 and early February of this year, police said.

The 17-year-old boy is not to be charged with the other crimes, pending the outcome of the armed robbery case. Petitions have been filed in juvenile court to initiate corrective actions against the 15-year-old.

Named to Dean's List at Quincy
George Stenitzer, son of Mrs. Beatrice Stenitzer, 1000 Grand Ave., Madison, and the late George Stenitzer, has been named to the Dean's List at Quincy College for work in the past semester.

According to Kenneth C. Conroy, academic dean, Stenitzer achieved a grade point average of 3.60 on the school's 4.0 academic scale.

Currently in his junior year at Quincy College, Stenitzer is a graduate of St. Joseph High School at Oakbrook, Ill.

'Burning Hell' film at Madison church
"The Burning Hell," a film produced by the Ormond Organization, will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the Church of God, 1536 Fourth St., Madison.

Pastor Dewey Garner said the public is invited to view the movie, which features "hundreds of Biblical wonders filmed in the Holy Land."

Adapted for the screen and directed by Ron Ormond, the film is narrated by Dr. R. G. Lee, Dr. Jack Hyles and Dr. Bob Gray.

No admission fee will be charged those viewing the movie, the Rev. Garner said.

Mrs. Lula May Parker dies

Mrs. Lula May Parker (Allen, 92, of 1010 Twenty-third St., died at 4:45 p.m. Tuesday at the Colonnades Nursing Home. She had been ill two months. Mrs. Parker was born in Wickliffe, Ky., and resided in the Quad-City area 32 years. She was a former resident of Baggett, Tenn.

She was a member of the Church of Christ and was a former nurse's aide at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Her husband, Dudley Parker, preceded her in death in 1942. Surviving are three sons.

Fred Vankirk dies at 69

Funeral arrangements are pending at a Rolla, Mo., funeral home for Fred Vankirk, 69, of Vida, Mo., a former Quad-City area resident who died at 4:15 p.m. Tuesday in a Fulton, Mo., hospital.

He had been ill one year and hospitalized five weeks.

Mr. Vankirk was born at Bement, Ill. He moved to Granite City in 1926 and was employed as an order with NESCO Steel Barrel Co. for 34 years. He moved to Vida, Mo., in 1961.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Lilly Mae (Curtman) Vankirk; a son, Darryl Vankirk; a daughter, Mrs. Floyd (Delores) Rabey of Granite City; two sisters, Mrs. Thomas (Carrie) Pattle of Jerseyville, and Dolie Mohrman of Vicksy, Mo.; and six grandchildren.

Interment will be at Beaver Cemetery at Rolla, Mo.

Air pact

control program launched in 1972 achieved improvements at many steel plant facilities here but was not a total solution, it was noted.

Advancing technology, some of it pioneered at Granite City Steel and other aspects perfected elsewhere in recent months, made the new air purity program possible, the participants said.

Jeffrey R. Diver, EPA deputy director, said the latest program was desirable because two local air monitoring stations had the No. 1 and No. 3 highest particulate ratings among such tests in the state in a recent survey.

He added that the Illinois EPA a short time ago worked out a similar clean air agreement with Commonwealth Edison in Chicago involving a $250 million expenditure.

Next, talks are planned with Republic Steel, Interlake Steel and possibly U.S. Steel, he said. Dr. Briceland pictured the local agreement as resulting from "joint recognition of the difficulty of finding a practice and economically reasonable solution to a very complex problem."

"It avoids tremendous waste of time, effort and money and interminable delays that would be involved in litigating the matter."

Illinois Pollution Control Board consideration of the pact is expected in six to eight weeks, it was related.

Jimmy Parker of Granite City, Dick Parker of Pearl, Ill., and Judson B. Parker of Smithton, Ill.; a sister, Mrs. Ree Lancaster of Dover, Tenn., 11 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Ray Briggs, 64, found dead

Ray J. Briggs, 64, of 2413 E. 25th St., was pronounced dead at 12:30 p.m. Monday after he was found without signs of life in his home.

Authorities said Mr. Briggs suffered a gunshot wound in the upper abdomen. Police said they were summoned to the home by a son, Regi Briggs, and found Mr. Briggs lying on his back in bed.

A 25-caliber automatic pistol was found in his right hand, police said. A spent shell casing was found at the foot of the bed, officers reported. Mr. Briggs was pronounced dead by Deputy Coroner Bob Thomas.

Mr. Briggs was born in Gillespie, Ill., and had lived in Granite City for 35 years. He was a retired foreman at Funsten Pecan Co., St. Louis, but in recent years had tended bar at a Madison tavern. He was a member of the Bartenders Union.

He is survived by his wife, Mary; his son, Regi Briggs of Granite City; one daughter, Mrs. Edward (Frances) Raylen Boone of Hartford; one sister, Mrs. Clarence (Reba) Pierard of Gillespie, and two grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

E. E. Wilson Sr., 55, dies

Edward E. Wilson Sr., 55, of Glen Carbon, the father and brother of Granite City residents, died Tuesday morning at St. Joseph's Hospital in Highland. He had been ill for some time and was hospitalized on previous occasions.

Among the survivors are a son, Richard Coin, and a sister, Mrs. Virginia Rydick, both of Granite City.

A former street superintendent of Glen Carbon for 26 years, Mr. Wilson also was employed by the U.S. Postal Service.

He was born in Hamburg, Ill., and was a member of Maryville Assembly of God Church. His wife, Mrs. Alice (Peeney) Wilson, died Sept. 7, 1975.

Also surviving are four other sons, Gary Coin of Milwaukee, Wis., Edward Wilson Jr. of Freeburg, Eric Wilson and Donald Peeney, both of Glen Carbon; three daughters, Mrs. Paul (Sandra) Shannon of St. Petersburg, Fla., Mrs. Jo Alice Trebing of Milwaukee, and Mrs. William J. (Judi) White of Caseyville; two other sisters, Mrs. Florence Funk of Glen Carbon and Mrs. Dorothy Biazilion of Hardin, Ill.; two brothers, John E. Wilson of Maryville and Leroy Wilson Jr. of Glen Carbon; and 22 grandchildren.

What can be done to safeguard those in schools during a tornado?

Being prepared is the key to minimizing the threat to life these violent storms bring, according to the National Weather Service.

Heading that advice, schools throughout Illinois are being asked to participate in a tornado drill on Wednesday, March 3, at 10 a.m. by Dr. Joseph M. Cronin, state superintendent of education.

"We think that practice in this way is the best way to prepare for a disaster," he said.

drill will be of real value in training children and preparing teachers and other school personnel for tornado emergencies," Dr. Cronin said. "We are glad to join with the Weather Service in providing the opportunity for such training and preparation."

Each year, 27 tornadoes whirl across Illinois during afternoon and early evening hours when schools are open. With the approach of the "tornado season," the drill is intended to help schools review and update their tornado emergency plans.

The March 3 alerting program will be conducted by the National Weather Forecast Office in Chicago in cooperation with the State Board of Education, school officials, regional and local school superintendents and the Illinois Civil Defense Agency.

THEFT OF RADIO

A 25-channel Citizen Band radio was stolen from the auto of Craig A. Blume, Edwards-ville, while parked on a lot at Charlie's Restaurant, 3129 Nameoki Road, it was reported at 5 p.m. Monday. A door lock was forced open.

The event, called "Candidates on the Line," is sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Illinois to encourage citizen participation in the election process.

Mother, daughter struck by auto

Mrs. Irene Baker, 43, and her 13-year-old daughter, Rita, both of 1723 Third St., Madison, were treated and released at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 7:55 a.m. Monday, following an accident at Seventh Street and Alton Avenue in Madison as Mrs. Baker was walking her daughter to school.

They reportedly were struck by an auto driven by Robert L. Barnhart, 47, of 1713 Fourth St., Madison.

1:20 to 1:55 p.m.—Republican candidate for lieutenant governor—Joan Anderson.

1:55 to 2:30 p.m.—Democratic candidates for secretary of state—Vince Demario and State Treasurer Alan J. Dixon.

The event, called "Candidates on the Line," is sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Illinois to encourage citizen participation in the election process.

New work hours at assessor's office

A new schedule of daily working hours will be initiated Monday at the office of Township Assessor Von Dee Cruse. It was announced yesterday.

The new daily hours will be from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., with the office closed during the noon lunch hour. The office has been open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and closed during the noon hour.

The Way It Was —

Feb. 23—A New Yorker forebears to mention "the distressed state of this once happy city. Troops are daily coming in. Private interest must give way to public good."

Feb. 24—Recruiting in Annapolis appears arduous and perplexing as an officer notes, "I am much afraid we shall be pushed for a drummer and fifer."

Feb. 25—Washington receives information from a Boston patriot revealing that the British had taken over every ship in the harbor for government service.

Feb. 26—Congress resolves that no vessel loaded for Britain, Ireland or the West Indies be allowed to depart without its express order.

Feb. 27—Benedict Arnold informs Washington that he had repulsed two more attacks by the defenders of Quebec, suffering from lack of food and

Feb. 28—Patrick Henry receives word that he is appointed a colonel in command of the first battalion of Virginia forces, but that he resigns, having wanted to be a general.

Feb. 29—In Williamsburg, Va., troops go into mourning after learning of Col. Patrick Henry's resignation. He beseeches them, however, to remain with their units.

MARINE CAPTAIN: Jimmy L. Whitson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Whitson of Granite City, who has been promoted to that rank while serving at the Air Station, Pensacola, Fla. A 1970 graduate of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, he joined the Marine Corps in January 1971.

Economic development plans outlined by candidate Howlett

Economic growth is the best way to avoid a tax increase, Michael J. Howlett, secretary of state, said this week. Running for governor in the March 16 Democratic primary, he said he will act where his opponent's administration has "failed to manage economic development programs."

Howlett said Illinois' economy has been skidding downhill for three years while the state administration has blamed Washington, "taking the position that the state can't do much to solve the problem."

He added, "In January 1973, when the governor took office, 102,000 were out of work in Illinois, 3.8 per cent of the work force. Last month, 469,000 were unemployed, almost one of every 11."

"In January, Illinois unemployment increased while national unemployment declined."

"Before this administration, Illinois unemployment was always lower than the national average. Now it is higher."

"The governor's leadership could not be worse than this. He has given only empty promises."

ing jobs more than twice as fast as the U.S. economy."

"Expansion of plants, business and industries, and the resulting increase in the Illinois tax base, is the best way to avoid a state tax increase."

Howlett said the Walker administration's approach to economic development is fragmented among different departments.

As governor, he said, he would appoint a "blue-ribbon task force from business, labor and the universities to plan restoration of Illinois' economic health."

He would not limit the task force's function, but would assign it specifically to:

1. Evaluate Illinois' comparative economic advantages.
2. Review programs of other states to determine which are most successful.
3. Determine what legislation is required to make Illinois competitive with other states.
4. "Determine how we can best use our central location, farm and business strengths, technical expertise, skilled labor force and expert management."
5. Review existing organization of state agencies which share responsibility for economic development.

"I will support the task force's recommendations," said Howlett. "We will make a start, lay the foundation for other programs, and let business and industry know we want them in Illinois."

Besides the task force, Howlett said he would establish within government a permanent Coordinating Council on Economic Affairs. It would include directors of the departments to Finance, Revenue, Labor, Business and Economic Development, General Services and other agencies.

Its responsibilities would include:

- Eliminating overlaps and duplicated programs.
- Developing accurate forecasting systems to measure the revenue base and monitor strengths and weaknesses in the state's economy.

Howlett said the current administration has "done nothing to stimulate regional economic cooperation, though it was recommended by a bipartisan commission of legislators and businessmen in 1969."

"Pennsylvania has developed countrywide agencies which led to 2,500 plants locating or expanding there," he said.

"Aggressive programs have been set up in Iowa, Nebraska, Ohio, New Jersey, Maryland, Minnesota, Missouri, Michigan, Wisconsin and Connecticut."

"In Illinois, there are 450 local economic development agencies which could be brought into cooperative partnership with the state," Howlett said. He mentioned functioning multi-county groups in Greater Egypt, Southeastern Illinois, the Greater Wabash and the Rockford-Moline areas.

Howlett said the governor promised in 1972 to appoint a council of economic advisors which he named nearly three years later.

There is no record of the council's having met or issued recommendations, Howlett alleged, adding, "Meanwhile, we continue to lose federal funds."

"During the last three years, we have lost millions in funding under the Rural Development Act."

"These funds are needed to develop improved farm-to-market roads and water and sewer systems and to strengthen Illinois as the number one agricultural state."

"We have lost Economic Development Administration funds by our failure to organize programs meeting the standards for such support."

"We must work with our elected U.S. representatives and senators of both parties to obtain those assistance funds."

Gardening schools March 4

By RON CORNWELL

Extension Farm Adviser
Two vegetable gardening schools will be held Thursday, March 4, in the Farm Bureau auditorium, 900 Hillsboro, Edwardsville. The first program will be in the afternoon from 1:30 to 3:30. The second program will be a repeat of the afternoon session, will go from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

What are the best varieties of vegetables to plant? How much fertilizer should I use? How much can I raise on a small plot in the backyard? What are the organic gardening? These are some of the many questions that will be discussed at the gardening program. Copies of the Illinois Vegetable Garden Guide will be available.

Chris Doll, area adviser in fruits and vegetables with the University of Illinois, will be the speaker. Plenty of time will be available on the program for questions and discussion of individual problems in gardening.

The programs are sponsored by the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service. They were planned by the Extension Horticulture Committee of which Harold Bakters is chairman.

Spring applications of nitrogen fertilizer on wheat should be made just before the wheat turns green.

Earlier topdressing should be avoided on frozen, sloped fields. The fertilizer may be lost through runoff during heavy rains.

Wheat needs nitrogen early in the growing season. The soil usually has not warmed enough for soil microbes to release much nitrogen from decaying plant residues and soil organic matter.

The nitrogen rate will vary depending on soil type, variety, and, to some extent, past and future cropping practices. The following recommendations are for stiff-strawed varieties in fields with no alfalfa or clover seedings:

—Soils low in capacity to supply nitrogen; inherently low in organic matter (light-colored); no manure, alfalfa, or clover in the preceding years — 70 to 90 pounds of N per acre.

—Soils medium in capacity to supply nitrogen; moderately dark-colored soils — 50 to 70 pounds of N per acre.

—Soils high in capacity to supply nitrogen; all dark deep-colored soils; light-colored soils that regularly have legume or manure — 40 to 50 pounds of N per acre.

These recommendations are for the total fall and spring nitrogen application. The amount of N applied last fall should be subtracted from the amount put on this spring.

Stiff-strawed varieties planted as a companion crop for legume or legume-grass seedings should be fertilized with 20 to 30 pounds less N. This will prevent unusually heavy top growth which complexes unfavorably with young forage seedlings.

All dry nitrogen fertilizers and liquid nitrogen solutions not containing free ammonia are acceptable for topdressing wheat. However, precautions need to be taken when using urea or materials containing urea.

If temperatures are greater than 50 degrees F. and soil is dry or drying rapidly, there is a potential for significant nitrogen loss from urea. It is best to apply it when temperatures are colder than 50 degrees F. Precipitation can then move urea into the soil and eliminate potential loss.

We recently received a supply of the "1975 Performance of Commercial Corn Hybrids in Illinois." The circular gives the yield results of various corn hybrids in the test plots scattered across the state.

The locations nearest Madison County are Brownstown field and Dixon Springs Experimental Station. The tests are conducted by the University of Illinois Extension Service. Copies of the circular are available free at the county extension office.

First Medicaid case indictment

The GEM-Rexall Pharmacy of Collinsville was indicted Thursday evening by a Madison County grand jury. The two-count indictment alleges grand theft of Illinois Public Aid Department funds.

It was the first Illinois indictment related to reports of multi-million-dollar Medicaid fraud in the U. S. by various firms.

The Collinsville store is operated by GEM Super Drugs, Inc. It is contended that the store submitted bills to the state on Aug. 8, 1973, for $185 and on Nov. 1, 1973, for $394; both billings are alleged to have been incorrect.

The firm was suspended from public aid sales in July 1974. Madison County and federal authorities are continuing other investigations. Those being studied include 16 physicians, 11 pharmacies and four clinical laboratories in Illinois.

$180 STOLEN
The home of W. W. Whittington, 2414 E. 20th Street, was entered by breaking a door glass. A woman's red wallet and $180 in cash were taken and the home was ransacked. It was reported at 7:20 p.m. Saturday.

Tax planning, records vital

The key to making income tax time as painless as possible is to be an efficient record keeper throughout the year. It's too late to start for 1975 taxes, but the Illinois State Bar Association has several reminders for making the task easier next year.

Most deductions for taxpayers who itemize must be backed up by written proof, in case the Internal Revenue Service decides to review the return.

In many cases, a cancelled check will provide the necessary documentation; in other cases, copies of receipts are required to verify a deduction.

It is wise to carefully save all bank statements and cancelled checks, receipts for medical expenses, including prescription drugs, and statements showing interest paid on various loans and installment credit contracts. The ISBA says. The association adds:

Be careful to record and report all income — even income from bonuses, dividends and odd jobs — from which there may have been no tax withheld.

It is also important to keep accurate records on possible future income producers, such as purchase of stocks, mutual funds, etc., purchase of a house, or significant improvements to one's home.

These items may someday become reportable on an income tax return as a capital gain (or loss), and the taxpayer will need records of original cost, the cost of improvements, and so on.

The question of how long income tax records should be retained is not easily answered. But an individual could consider himself to be safe if he retains the records that support his returns for at least 10 years after the return was filed.

Many taxpayers who do not keep careful records and organize their records properly either pay more taxes than necessary, or unwittingly file erroneous federal and state returns. Either situation can be costly for the individual, the Illinois State Bar Association points out.

Most taxpayers in higher income brackets have learned the necessity of professional tax counsel, but taxpayers in the under $15,000 brackets, who are less able to pay unnecessary taxes, are the ones most likely to neglect tax planning, the ISBA says.

It concludes: "Begin now to organize your tax affairs for future returns to make the process easier and more accurate."

GC man charged in burglary

Leonard Wright, 38, of 2416 Adams St., was arrested and charged by Madison police with burglary after he allegedly was found in an apartment above Ralph and Charlie's Steak House, 1431A Fourth St., Madison.

David Thebeau told police at 11:15 p.m. Friday, that he was working downstairs and later upon entering his apartment discovered a man in a bedroom. Thebeau alleged the man was holding a pillowcase containing guns, binoculars, assorted change, and a money bag containing receipts from the restaurant.

School survey of employers

Quad City and other schools in this region are asking employers to help them prepare students for jobs in 15 Southwestern Illinois counties through a survey of more than 2,000 employers in March.

All with more than 10 employees are being asked to respond in the survey to develop a more accurate picture of employment in the 15-county region.

"Small employers are especially important to the survey because more than 75 per cent of employers in the area have fewer than 20 employees, according to the U. S. Census Bureau," a spokesman said.

The survey is a cooperative effort of nearly 70 school districts involved in the Southwestern Illinois Vocational Education Consortium and also Northwestern University School of Education, through a grant from the Illinois Office of Education's division of Adult, Vocational and Technical Education.

Employers are being asked to describe their present work force and the types of training they expect to need in hiring new employees in the next two years.

Information in the survey is to be used to improve job counseling and vocational education planning in area schools and community colleges.

Coordinators are Lewis Sabin of the Venice school district, Lee Ashby of the Madison schools and Robert Maxwell of the Granite City district.

The survey is an extension of a shorter version completed in four of the 15 counties last spring during the first year of the project. Last year, a telephone survey produced a partial directory of employers in Madison, St. Clair, Clinton and Monroe counties.

Local employers are to fill out the survey form by March 19 to permit time for coding and analysis at Northwestern. The survey offers employers a way to tell a large number of educators about their needs for trained workers now and in the future.

Results will be reported in the spring. All employment information about any single firm will remain confidential. Reports will combine results from all employers for each industry in the region.

The vocational education planning project is directed at helping local schools and communities gather and use information about three elements of the local job market:

1. The supply of workers and their skills.

2. The demand for skills in particular jobs in the area.

3. The roles of schools in helping people prepare for jobs.

The consortium and Northwestern teamed to provide a series of workshops last summer to help school systems include job market information in their planning.

Factors in planning job counseling and vocational education include the number and quality of jobs in the area, their social mobility, and wage patterns.

The employer survey will enable schools to use detailed employment information and ideas from employers to help youth and adults prepare to meet the needs of the southwest Illinois job market.

Schools are trying to include the needs of individuals, communities, government and local employers as they plan occupational and counseling programs.

The 15 counties involved in the survey are: Bond, Calhoun, Clinton, Fayette, Greene, Jersey, Macoupin, Madison, Marion, Monroe, Montgomery, Perry, Randolph, St. Clair and Washington.

Local choirs to be at Kiel

The combined choirs of Trinity Church of God in Christ, 800 Bissell St., and Calvary Baptist Church Choir, 3000 Washington Ave., will perform at Kiel Auditorium in St. Louis Friday.

The two choirs are calling themselves the Bicentennial Gospel Jubilee choir.

They will appear with Andrae Crouch and The Disciples, a nationally-known group. The music will be a blend of rock, gospel, jazz and soul.

Tickets are $4, $5, and $6 and may be obtained from any member of the local choirs or from Jack Johnson's Music store, 3250 Nameoki Road.

SCHOLARSHIP WINNER—Major William J. Weiland (left), adjunct professor of aerospace education with the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps detachment at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, congratulates Stephen Smith, an SIUE sophomore and one of 10 recipients of Illinois AFROTC scholarships at the University. Smith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bennie R. Smith of Granite City.

FIRE ON EDISON

Fire in the basement of the home of Bruce Dennis, 1737 Edison Ave., caused only minor damage during the weekend and firemen extinguished the fire within 15 minutes. Firemen said the fire was of suspicious origin and are investigating. There was a previous fire at the same address.

MFT allotments for January

Illinois municipalities have been allocated $10,891,574 as their share of motor fuel tax paid into the state treasury during January, according to the Illinois Department of Transportation.

Motor fuel tax funds are allocated monthly to the various municipalities in Illinois for their streets and highways. The monies allocated are computed on the basis of population.

MFT allocations to municipalities in this area included $45,772 to Granite City, $7,922 to Madison and $5,385 to Venice.

The DOT also announced distribution of $4,053,707 to Illinois counties as their share of motor fuel taxes collected in unincorporated areas. The allocation to Madison County was $151,654.

Funds distributed to Illinois townships and road districts totaled $3,526,147, including a total of $43,480 to townships in Madison County.

Police trace history of gun

Police are investigating how a gun, stolen nearly two years ago in Venice, got into the possession of a St. Louis woman who was shot during a holdup at a North St. Louis ice cream parlor last week.

Miss, Dorothy Johnson, 26, who was a customer in the ice cream parlor during the holdup, dropped a fully-loaded .38 caliber revolver after she was shot twice by one of the robbers.

She told police one of the robbers handed her the weapon, saying he did not want to go through with the holdup.

A customer, however, thought Miss Johnson took the gun from her purse after a robber took $50 from her. She was shot moments later and has been listed in serious condition at Homer G. Phillips Hospital, St. Louis.

Police also are searching for the robbers, both about 18-years-of-age, who took an undetermined amount of money from the cash register and took $1 from another customer, according to reports.

Venice Chief of Police Ralph D. Brawley said the gun recovered in the ice cream parlor had serial numbers matching those of a gun reported March 10, 1974, to have been stolen from the apartment of Mrs. Alberta Patterson in Viola Jones Homes, Venice.

MATCHES CAUSE FIRE

A child playing with matches is believed by authorities to have been the cause of a fire during the weekend which resulted in $300 damage to contents and $300 damage to the home of Walter Cooklin, 2869 Roosevelt Ave. Granite City firemen, who were on the scene 25 minutes, said damage was confined to a chair, pillows and carpeting in a living room of the home.

For only $1.66, you can make a ten-minute Long Distance call to the farthest point in the United States.

It's almost 2,000 miles from Illinois to Patrick's Point in northern California.

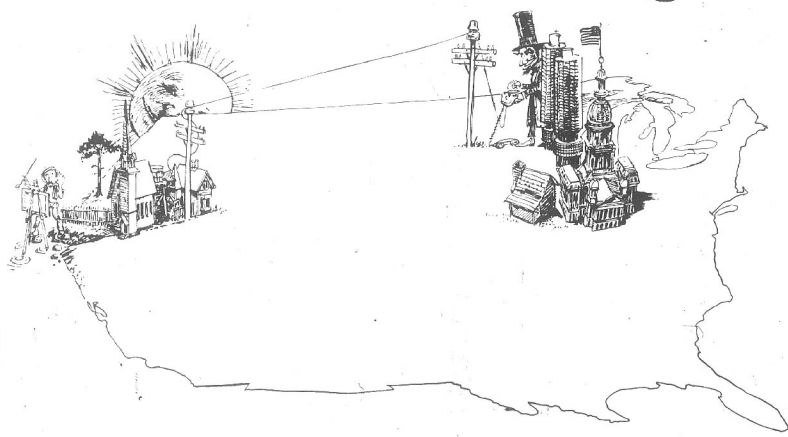

By our calculations, it's about the farthest point from Illinois in the United States (excluding Alaska and Hawaii).

Yet for just $1.66, you can call Patrick's Point by Long Distance and talk for ten minutes.

All you have to do is dial direct. And call on the weekend before 5 p.m. Sunday.

Now if you can make a ten-minute call as far away as Patrick's Point for only $1.66—obviously, it would cost even less to call Topeka or Pittsburgh or just about anywhere else in the U.S.

Joseph-Jansen wedding at St. Margaret Mary

Miss Teresa Jansen, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Jansen, 2436 Terminal Ave., and Bradford Joseph, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Joseph, 2877 Erb Road, St. Louis, were united in marriage on Feb. 6 at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church.

Father Edward Groesch performed a double ring ceremony at 6:30 p.m.

Sister Marilyn Therese presided at the organ for soloists, Linda Bennett, who sang "Wedding Song," "Today," "It," "One Hand, One Heart" and "Sunrise Sunset."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long white A-line gown of organza over tulle. Her fingertip veil was edged in Venise lace and held in place with a lace Juliet cap, etched with pearls.

Venise lace trimmed the square neckline, empire bodice and full bishop sleeves. The decorative lace was repeated on a front panel of the skirt and the cathedral train.

She held a cascade of white carnations, centered with yellow roses.

Miss Kay Jansen and Miss Susan Joseph, sisters of the bride, served as honor attendants and bridesmaids.

They chose rust-colored polyester dresses, empire in style, featuring square necklines, edged with off-white lace, high rise waistlines and long sleeves.

Each held a colonial bouquet of yellow and white carnations with a center cluster of yellow roses.

The groom chose Bob Wright as best man, Jeff Jansen, a brother of the bride, was groomsman, Craig and Brad Loddeke seated the guests.

The bride is a 1973 Granite City High School graduate. Her husband was graduated from Mehlville Senior High School.

Mrs. Jansen, mother of the bride, appeared in a long blue polyester gown. The groom's mother, Mrs. Joseph, selected a formal length dress in apricot hues.

MR. AND MRS. ERIC R. HORN. They were married in a candlelight ceremony at the First United Presbyterian Church. The bride is the former Tammy Gilliam, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julian R. Gilliam, 24 Victoria Drive.

First Presbyterian scene of Horn-Gilliam nuptials

Marriage vows were exchanged by Miss Tammy Gilliam, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julian R. Gilliam, 24 Victoria Drive, and Eric Ray Horn of Orlando, Fla., a son of Mr. Harriet Horn, 3301 Bradley Ave., and the late Raymond Horn, on Feb. 7 at the First United Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. David Bruce Maxton performed the double ring ceremony at 5 o'clock in the evening. A reception followed at the Long Lake Firemen's Hall.

For her wedding, the bride wore an A-line style gown of white organza over tulle, fashioned with an Empire bodice and Victorian sleeves, accented with Chantilly lace motifs.

The lace appliques were repeated on the front of the skirt and cathedral-length train. She wore a Chantilly lace cap, etched with pearls, to secure an elbow-length veil, which was bordered in matching lace. Her bouquet was an arrangement of pink and white carnations.

Maid of honor Miss Dawn Wallace chose an A-line dress. The Empire bodice of sheer brocade was embellished with pink, blue and yellow roses. A pink ribbon marked the neckline and high-rise waist.

The bridesmaids, Debbie Barlock, Connie Badger, a cousin of the bride, and Diane Barlock, were attired in identically designed gowns in blue, yellow and green. Each attendant wore a picture hat to match her attire and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and baby's breath.

Beth Barr, a niece of the groom, was flower girl. She wore a light green organza dress with short puff sleeves and an overskirt of the pink, blue and yellow floral brocade. She carried a basket of flower petals. Michael Gilliam, the bride's nephew, served as the ringbearer.

Candlelighters were Michelle Pittman and Dana Harris.

The groom chose Brian Willis as his best man, Eldon Warfield, a cousin of the groom, Kevin Gilliam, the bride's brother, Ed Szepepink, Tony Wille and Brad Bains completed the corps of groomsman and ushers.

A graduate of Granite City High School North, the former Miss Gilliam was a member of the Steel City Pom-Pom squad and the Future Secretaries of America. She was employed as a secretary in the office of the Ponton Beach mayor.

The groom attended South High School and is currently working as a dental laboratory technician in Orlando, Fla., where the couple is now residing.

MARRIED. Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Joseph, who were married in an evening ceremony at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church. The bride is the former Teresa Jansen, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Jansen, 2436 Terminal Ave.

JOSEPH BERKBIGLERS NAME DAUGHTER STACY Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Berkgigler are announcing the birth of their first child, a daughter, born Feb. 16 at Wilford Hall USAF Medical Center at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex.

The infant has been named Stacy Marie. She weighed nine pounds, four ounces.

The maternal grandparents are Mrs. Betty Steffen of Granite City and Andrew Bauza of Tooele, Utah. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Berkgigler of Granite City.

The mother will be remembered as the former Susan Bauza. The father is serving in the Air Force at Lackland.

Prompt start on dam, one lock urged by Engineers Board

Considerable support appears likely for Tuesday's recommendation by the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors. The board urged that a new dam and a new 1,200-foot-long lock be built at this time, two miles south of the present Alton dam and locks.

The age and condition of the existing facilities make prompt action a highly appropriate decision, the board stressed. On the other hand, it suggested that a proposed second new lock be delayed until further study is made of probable future river traffic volume. The study would show how large a second river lock should be, and also would take a closer look at the environmental impact of future river traffic.

ASF momentum spreading to Smith and Granite City Steel

The American Steel Foundries' success story here during recessionary times has become widely known. Production activity of railroad-related products not only has remained at a high level, but facilities have been expanded to permit even greater production.

Now such happy news is spreading to other major employers. A. O. Smith Corporation is scheduling added frame production by a larger staff as new auto sales climb. Significant production and employment expansion were given a go-ahead this week

High standards for business, political actions overseas

Press-Record Washington Bureau—It is not an exaggeration to say that intense salesmanship, including bribery by Lockheed Aircraft Co., and some other transnational firms has created another problem of immense dimensions to American foreign policy.

Lockheed has admitted that it has paid lobbyists and government officials in Japan and The Netherlands.

As a result, the parliaments of both nations have initiated major investigations. In their nets are such luminaries as Dutch Premier Berthout and former Japanese Premier Kakuei Tanaka, who still serves in Parliament.

It is entirely possible that before the investigations end the complexion of parliaments could change and royalty could abdicate. Unfortunately, the Lockheed affair is only the beginning.

Various federal agencies are investigating 46 corporations for possible bribery abroad or illegal contributions to political campaigns in the United States.

Joint statement on clean air pact by plant, state

Joint statement on Tuesday by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency and also Granite City Steel, a division of National Steel Corporation.

We have concluded an agreement that will not only solve one of the major air contaminant problems in the St. Louis metropolitan area and the metro area of Illinois, but will also provide an opportunity for greatly expanded industrial and community growth in the bi-state area.

This agreement is the most significant settlement of its kind ever accomplished in Illinois and possibly the nation.

It is unique because it represents a solution for all of the major air emissions problems of a major steel company's complete facility. It provides a framework for long-term improvement of ambient air quality in Granite City, and for solving the problems of other industries in Illinois.

It represents our joint recognition and understanding of the difficulty of finding a practical and economically reasonable solution to a very difficult problem.

The agreement was reached voluntarily after eight months of negotiations during which each side found the other cooperative and genuinely interested in improving the quality of the ambient air in the bi-state area.

In avoiding the tremendous waste of time, effort and money, and the interminable delays involved in litigating this matter, the agreement is in contrast with the methods of those who think lawsuits are the only way to solve environmental problems.

In the past, there has been a significant problem with the concentration of air pollutants in the Granite City area, which has consistently exceeded health-related primary standards.

Potential for 'Beckemeyer' crossing tragedy with buses at West Pontoon

The West Pontoon Road grade crossing has been the subject of much controversy recently. However, I witnessed again this morning (Feb. 19) an incident which, in my opinion, is inexcusable.

As I approached the crossing, the lights began flashing and the gates lowered. Immediately behind me was an R. W. Harmon school bus with a new driver. The school bus driver hesitated and then pulled out from behind me and proceeded to go around the gate. As she was entering the crossing, the school bus began to whistle—an indication of just how close the train was to the crossing. Needless to say, the driver had only her own life to lose in that instance. But how am I to know that she wouldn't do the same thing with a busload of children?

Are a few minutes of time worth the risk of beating a train and losing lives? I have two children who ride a school bus every day, and the thought of such a careless driver chauffeur children is frightening to me. This is not the first time I have witnessed a school bus driving around crossing gates. I have also seen the small vans do the same.

I realize there has been some justification for not always trusting the signals. But, more often than not, I believe the signals are accurate and should be obeyed.

Do we need an accident more horrifying than that which occurred at Beckemeyer, Ill. (Twelve deaths at a railroad crossing)?

To the Editor: I do not appreciate the Hope Clinic getting front page coverage in the Feb. 16 issue.

This article led the public to know just how easy the ending of a human life can be and how available.

If all the doctors mentioned in this article would spend more time with their patients than what they are involving innocent babies, how much better off we would be.

I am appalled that the Press-Record printed such an article.

Abortions certain; safer when legal

To the Editor: I was very pleased to see the Hope Clinic for Women finally received a little good publicity for a change. The clinic does just what the name says. It provides hope for both young and older women by performing abortions, voluntary sterilizations, and counseling—thus allowing them to decide for themselves whether to have children if and when they desire. Isn't this best for both mother and child? I don't think the clinic does either. The clinic provides and recommends birth control for all of its clients.

However, I do feel that no woman should have to go through an unwanted pregnancy. Abortion always has and always will exist in our society, whether or not it is legal.

It is much better to keep abortion legal, thus providing a safe and sanitary environment and procedure for the women involved.

I am curious as to the "other countries" referred to in the follow-up abortion statistics upon which the paper is basing its Life group. They fail to mention if these are countries where abortion is legal or if the abortions were performed by competent physicians.

I seriously doubt if those statistics apply in this country since the legalization of abortion. I think the nationwide recognition of the Hope Clinic and his Hope Clinic for Women is an asset to our community.

Favors supplemental freeway delay

To the Editor: Highway construction cannot be continued at the present rate, because this year's expanded program has been financed by "one-shot" fiscal expedients by Governor Walker. We will just have to cut back on what can be financed on a pay-as-you-go basis from the gasoline tax.

This does not mean that supplemental freeways will have to be cancelled, but it will mean that they will have to be pushed farther into the future, unless people want a higher gasoline tax.

We need to minimize damage to existing highways, too. I am adamantly opposed to any raising of the truck weight limits. The very big trucks chew up the highways much faster than smaller vehicles, and are much more of an accident menace to motorists.

And the U.S. government must make the higher weight limits would make the trucks more efficient, but this is false economy when you consider the damage to the roads.

We should continue the Interstate highway program unchanged, instead of spending it on other projects. President Ford, for a mere four cents a gallon, this is a good deal for an excellent payoff in better roads.

We need to finish off the present freeway network, but in the future, we should concentrate on freeways between cities and around them, rather than through them.

In this area, we need to think on a St. Louis-wide basis, rather than just thinking of the east side in isolation. We need to set up a list of road projects, in order of priority, and then try to get the high-priority projects first, subject to budgetary restraints and to the competing needs of other areas.

The same priority principle applies to using dangerous railroad crossings.

We need to set aside a specific percentage of the road budget each year for this purpose, relying on local knowledge, list the crossings in each area, that are most dangerous, find out how much they'd cost to fix, and give priority to those with the highest ratio of benefit to cost.

But we have to recognize that we can't fix everything all at once, only gradually.

We also need to improve the efficiency of the road building process. Road construction often delays traffic far too long while it is being done, and the road crews seem inefficient. Engineering planning also seems ham-fisted. If a new road is to be built across a river, for instance, it would seem logical to build the new span side by side with the old bridge, if at all possible, rather than replacing it, so we could keep the old one for added capacity.

In Madison and St. Clair counties, we need to think ahead on what roads should have highest priority for completion. We cannot do everything at once, but we can plan ahead.

We need to look at the St. Louis area as a whole, not just at the east side and not just at one district. I know very few motorists who confine their driving solely to one legislative district.

And we should look at road projects from the point of view of utility to the motorists, not as a means of creating jobs and construction unions.

In order of priority, I would list the following projects: 1. Fixing the railroad crossings in East St. Louis and Granite City, which now often delay motorists interminably as trains shut back and forth. This is top priority.

2. To the north, the last links of Highways 40 and 64 through East St. Louis. This would not only help Belleville motorists going to St. Louis, but would also help local motorists to St. Louis.

3. Over in St. Louis, work is urgently needed to eliminate bottlenecks at the Vandeventer overpass on Highway 40, and at the place where Highway 44 merges with Highway 55 from the west. Also, a new bridge is needed across the Mississippi at St. Charles to relieve the severe traffic congestion there.

4. In Alton, we need to complete the Bellini Highway and to improve the wretched bridge across the Mississippi on Highway 67 going south to St. Louis.

5. Throughout the county, there are a lot of two-lane roads which carry heavy traffic which could be improved by widening them to three lanes, so as to allow safe passing of slow-moving vehicles; that is, where highways are common in some other states.

You have north-bound passing lanes on Highway 40, and then south-bound passing. The widening could be done on the flat part of the highway, where widening is relatively cheap, leaving the bridges and culverts still on two-lane status. Most projects where you get most traffic flow improvement per dollar spent.

6. Over to the east of Collinsville, Highway 55 should be extended due south, passing by Belleville on the east and continuing south until it crossed the Mississippi around Chester and traveled I-55 from St. Louis.

7. Another road project is the need for travel off for trucks headed south but, more importantly, would divert traffic from the heart of St. Louis. It would also take some of the pressure off the parallel highway 159. The ring road system around St. Louis could then be completed by extending I-255 due east from the J. B. Bridge until it met the new highway a little south of Belleville.

To the north, we need a main highway going parallel to the Mississippi up toward Minneapolis. This is the only driveway out of St. Louis that we need to have.

Such a road would presumably cross the Mississippi somewhere west of Godfrey.

8. A highway is also needed that would go southwest from Chicago toward Kansas City, cutting across the Mississippi somewhere about the southern edge of Iowa.

This, of course, would go nowhere near the 56th District. But its benefit to the St. Louis area would be that it would divert traffic that would otherwise go through this area, thus helping cut down congestion along Highway 20.

Some of these projects are already in process of completion; some are far in the future. Some are shared by some are federal, some state, some county projects.

Obviously, a state legislator would have different influence on different decisions, ranging from modest to extremely little. I'd like to emphasize that this is a "wish-list," not campaign promises, and not a detailed plan of action. It'd be a long time in the future before all of these could be finished, especially if we cut back highway construction to equal revenue.

There is only a limited amount any one legislator could do—the politicians up in Peoria and Rockford and Springfield and their areas, too, not to mention Mayor Daley. Quite frankly, if people want someone who is serious about such things, they should vote for a Democratic opponent.

Would Coleman punish efficiency, reward failure?

(The International Teamster)

America's healthy motor carrier industry today finds itself in a blizzard of governmental proposals that, if allowed to rage unabated may bury trucking in an economic snow job drift.

A cadre of federal and corporate leaders is seeking to selectively rescue the nation's bankrupt railroad industry. The strategy is to do it at the expense of the successful motor carrier and inland waterway transportation industries as well as at the expense of the taxpayer.

Regulatory is crude and simple. Trucks and barges are being labeled villains in transportation. At the same time, powerful interests are pushing the need to "revitalize" the country's railroad system.

By virtue of his position alone, Transportation Secretary William T. Coleman is at the eye of the storm.

An important part of the program was the "Statement of National Transportation Policy" delivered recently by Coleman to Congress.

What Coleman wished the public to know and what he wanted to impress upon Congress were the two vastly different things.

In the official news release published by the Transportation Department, the complete statement was distilled through the prism of high-sounding phrases. The perturbed language was not intended to mislead.

Coleman, for instance, was said to refer to the need for a "healthy and responsive transportation system."

Minus any detail, the blurb further hinted that the federal government must support the evolution of transportation by "reinforcing the strengths of our system and shoring up its weaknesses." For that was the real message in a close reading of the policy statement.

Coleman's 53-page missive said flat out that higher highway user fees on trucks could tax the railroads and shoring up its weaknesses.

Successful freight-moving industries, Coleman seemed to be saying, should underwrite railroad ineptness. Take from Peter to revive an ailing Paul.

By the way of supporting his argument that motor carriers and water barges should be taxed, Coleman displayed an astonishing "forgettery" of history.

He noted that water carriers, for instance, did not pay any taxes on waterways, but that the federal government spent billions of dollars on dams, locks, etc., each year.

On the other hand, Coleman said, the nation's rail freight taxes, the so-called "excise" taxes, were their own rights-of-way and often pay taxes on them. He neglected to mention that Congress, in its first instance, gave a bonanza in land to the railroads more than 100 years ago.

So far as trucking was concerned, Coleman noted, it was true that operators pay various user fees and taxes for highways.

An analysis of Coleman's policy statement shows beyond doubt that the Administration has narrowed its focus to a point where it hopes to bludgeon Congress.

The reason is obvious. It is Congress that must approve new or higher taxes on motor vehicles and barges. It is Congress that must make more costly to the thirty railroads.

Coleman's masked pitch was clothed in the cotton candy of a policy statement which included this sentence: "A national transportation policy should be a living evolving process responsive to changing conditions and public perception of transportation needs."

You would have to travel far to find a better "free enterprise" declaration than that. The trucking industry, especially in recent years has taken the lead in the very thing Coleman was talking about. It has, definitely responded to changing conditions and public perceptions of transportation needs.

Whereas Coleman has done the job so successfully that motor freight over-the-road now out-rips railroad freight in the United States.

Whereas Coleman's policy statement referred hardly to the need to free transportation modes "from the encumbrance of outdated regulatory restraints" (a fancy phrase for deregulation) he had spelled out more earthy policy earlier in the week. It happened quite by accident.

Coleman appeared before a House subcommittee for a hearing on transportation. He digressed from his prepared text addressed to a proposal to reorganize the northeastern midwest rail system.

The secretary of Transportation warned that the rail reorganization plan would not work well unless pending deregulation legislation was passed.

To make sure the congressmen did not misunderstand him, Coleman felt compelled to say that he was not holding the railroad reorganization proposal as a "hostage" to gain desired changes in rate regulation. Yet that was what he was doing.

Coleman need not have overstepped himself. The House subcommittee chaired by Rep. Fred B. Rooney of Pennsylvania, already had received "very fine cooperation" from the Department of Transportation and the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Rooney's subcommittee hearings on the proposed Railroad Revitalization Act ended in November. Under the mandate of the proposal, railroad deregulation would be assured to the detriment of motor carriers.

One of the major provisions of the Rail Revitalization Act would authorize the Secretary of Transportation to guarantee loans to railroads.

It would also prohibit ICC suspension of rail rate increases or decreases of 15 per cent annually, and after three years it would prohibit suspension of any rate decrease at all.

Rates, of course, are tied to money and, Transportation Secretary Coleman also figured in this aspect of the railroad revitalization bill.

Influential leaders of the nation's largest banks already have warned the Ford administration and Congress that the government share of the cost of rehabilitating northeastern railroads could amount to as much as $1 billion.

Retired Persons discuss events

The public relations committee of Chapter 1340 of the American Association of Retired Persons, Inc. (AARP) met last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Walter, 2460 Washington Ave., to discuss forthcoming events of interest to the organization.

Chairman Mrs. Vernice Walter presided and introduced two new members, Mrs. Carmen Allen and Mrs. Blanche Scantling, and noted another new member, Mrs. Augusta Lampe, was unable to attend.

Mrs. Helen Bertacchi, co-chairman of the committee, discussed plans for a "touch of nature" outing involving AARP members for the Southern Illinois area on May 18-20 at Little Grassy Lake, Carbondale, Ill. She said Roy S. Singer will serve as chairman of the event.

The chairman reported national Senior Citizen Month will be observed in May and Kathryn Smith discussed ways to publicize the AARP programs and services during May.

Tentative arrangements for the observance includes honoring a long-time resident who has assisted in community service. Nominations for the honor are to be sent to Mrs. Walter or any committee member for consideration.

Mrs. Walter said the group is working with the ministerial alliance to have one Sunday in May set aside as Senior Sunday.

"To Serve and Not be Served" is the AARP slogan, Mrs. Walter reported. She led a discussion on information relating to the Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP), headed by Mrs. Norma Mendoza of the local YMCA.

The chairman requested anyone who could volunteer time for the program may contact Mrs. Mendoza.

Mrs. Walter, who has been appointed state director for Illinois AARP, will attend a leadership school on March 1-5 in Atlanta, Ga.

The chapter meets on the second Wednesday of each month at 7 p.m. at the Coolidge Junior High School cafeteria, Mrs. Vina Law, president, announced. She said guests are welcome to attend the March 13 session to be held at the East Side Levee and Sanitary District office, 1704 Madison Ave.

DAR HONORS YOUTH. Local high school students named by the Drusilla Andrews Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, as "Good Citizens" of their respective schools. Each was honored and received a pin at the chapter's George Washington Tea.

Student 'smoking' posters due

J. Lawrence Keshner, president of Lewis-Clark Lung Association, is reminding Calhoun, Jersey and Madison County students in grades three through 12 that Tuesday, March 9 is the deadline for submitting posters in the Ninth Annual Statewide Smoking Poster Contest.

The contest, sponsored by Illinois Lung Association, is being promoted and coordinated locally by the Lewis-Clark association.

Announcements listing contest rules and regulations were sent to school principals Jan. 9 to post in classrooms throughout the three-county area. Packets of materials for student guidance in choosing factual information were forwarded to classroom teachers who requested them.

Local judging, to determine statewide entrants, will be done by Lewis-Clark association March 10. Statewide winners will be selected April 1 in Springfield.

All judging will be based on the following factors: Originality; ability to attract and communicate; grammatical correctness; and to be utilized effectively in the classroom; and coordination of picture-message content.

Local awards will be made for first place and two honorable mentions in each of three categories: grades 3 through 5; grades 6 through 8 and grades 9 through 12.

Local first place posters will be entered in the statewide judging. State awards will be presented for first place and at least two honorable mentions in each grade category.

First place state winners will receive a $25 savings bond. Each school represented by a state winner will receive a "Smoking and Your Health" workshop unit to augment the school's health education program, Keshner said.

SCHOOL BURGLARY
A door was pried open to gain entry to Emerson School, 20th and Benton streets, it was reported at 8:30 a.m. Monday.

Classrooms, a lounge and a supply room were ransacked, and tools, a portable television set, a portable calculator, $160 in cash and $1.50 worth of stamps were taken.

Colonial dinner for Alpha Eta

Alpha Eta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society held its Bicentennial celebration at a dinner meeting last week at the Alton YWCA.

Members dressed in period costumes for the colonial-style dinner party.

Mrs. Agnes Fryntzko of Granite City, president, was in charge of the business session and Louise Sheary, project chairman, conducted a silent auction and collection of eyeglasses and frames for "New Eyes for the Needy."

Highlighting the evening was a program consisting of "Let George Do It," a musical presented by the Junior High Double Sextet of Trimp Junior High School, Bethalto, directed by Jane Stewart; and "Let Us Do It," a history in dance performed by Sara Carpenter of Alpha Eta Chapter.

Carolyn Beckett, Bicentennial observances chairman, arranged the program.

Serving as hostesses were Jane Henry and Jean Lowenstein.

DAR names 'Good Citizens'

The Drusilla Andrews Chapter of the DAR held its annual George Washington Tea this week at the Niedringhaus United Methodist Church with about 40 members and guests present.

Special guests of honor were senior students from area high schools who have been selected as "Good Citizens" of their respective schools.

Miss Peggy Pier represented Venice High School; Mark Anthony Jiles was Madison High School's choice; Miss Anne Rowden was selected from Granite City North; and Miss Patricia Kay Hitt was named from Granite City South. The students were chosen on the basis of dependability, leadership, service and patriotism.

Mrs. Eva Meier, DAR chaplain, introduced the "Good Citizens" to the assembled group. She spoke briefly on the DAR's objectives and asked the mother of each student to pin the "Good Citizen" pin on her offspring. She closed the ceremony with a short poem on "Talent" and admonished the students to "bloom where you are planted."

Members of the Belleville DAR Chapter presented a Bicentennial program for the group, marking the 150th presentation since last June.

The program was opened by marching in to the tune of "Yankee Doodle," played on the fife and the drums, with the members costumed in authentic-styled colonial dress.

They also led the group in the pledge of allegiance to the flag. A brief explanation was given about the costumes of each participant. Special note was taken of the Williamsburg shirt, worn by several members, which is made entirely from squares and rectangles with no curved seams.

One woman exhibited a fancy dress over 100 years old made completely by hand.

Knee pants were worn by three members, along with shoes with large buckles. Some were in tricorn hats which featured a flower at the back, a symbol of George Washington's division.

One of the highlights of the program was showing a large quilt depicting the nation's history. Made of red, white and blue gingham, the quilt blocks were embroidered and then quilted to show a raised design scene. Alternate red and blue triangular points finished off the edges of the quilt.

Among the scenes pictured were Benjamin Franklin, the DAR symbol, the State of Illinois with the old capitals located on it, a scroll symbolizing 1776 to 1976, a church and flag, Paul Revere's ride, the Declaration of Independence, the Liberty Bell, a typical uniform of George Washington, the Minuteman in costume, a lady's head representing the American spy, Lydia Darrough, scenes as "America as apple pie," and the country as a melting pot of nationalities, the Statue of Liberty, a woman walking westward as the country grew, the oak tree as the Illinois state tree with a bird's nest stressing conservation, a burned candle, a Bible quotation, "Whatever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might," and the final block was a life-size symbolizing the Spirit of '76.

A number of flags of the United States were shown and the brief history of each was given. Among them were the Bennington, the Betsy Ross, George Washington's flag, his personal flag, the Gadsden, the Philadelphia Lighthorse, and the ARBA flag, the symbol of the Bicentennial.

A history of the painting "Spirit of '76" was given and it was noted that originally the painting was known as "Yankee Doodle."

The presiding regent was Mrs. Ruth McCarthy, who welcomed the guests and members.

Students chosen as the Good Citizens are active in many phases of school life. Miss Peggy Pier has participated in band, chorus, FHA, Student Council, and the junior class play.

She has served as treasurer of the chorus and the FHA and currently is vice president of the Venice Student Council. She is listed in the Who's Who Among American High School Students and Who's Who in Music. She is youth director at her church and was a representative from Illinois to the International Youth Camp. She is serving as a student representative to the Title VII Advisory Council, and works five days a week after school as a candystriper at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Mark Jiles was a member of the basketball and baseball teams during his freshman and sophomore years and has participated in football all four years, and in track as a junior and senior. He is secretary of the Madison Student Council and the National Honor Society and vice president of the senior class. He also is a member of the Foreign Language Club and the Madison band.

Patricia Hitt is a four-year member of the GAA and a three-year member of the Red Peppers. She is a member of the Red Pepper Board and is serving as finance chairman of the GAA Board. She is treasurer of the National Honor Society at South. She has been a member of the Social Studies Club for two years.

Miss Annis Rowden is an Illinois State Scholar and has been listed in Who's Who Among American High School Students for the last two years. She was a member of the 1975 Fall Festival Homecoming Court and was the Wrestling Queen her sophomore year. She has participated in Advance Speech activities, the Peppermint Players, the Junior Folies, and was a member of the chorus in "No, No, Nanette." She has been a football, wrestling and basketball cheerleader and went to cheerleading camp at Illinois State University. She also is a member of the Glee Club, the German Club, National Honor Society, presently serving as secretary, Masque and Gavel, North Student Council, Inter-Club Council, Contando and the Silver Spirit Club.

Parents and relatives of the honored guests in attendance were Mrs. John Pier, Mrs. Helen Jiles, Mr. and Mrs. Al

Rowden, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hitt and Barbara and Tom Hitt. Mrs. Althea Cross also was a guest.

Belleville DAR Chapter members presenting the program were Mrs. Edwin Altes, Mrs. Donald Worley, Mrs. Phyllis Shive, Mrs. Sherman Stoekey, Mrs. William Alston, Mrs. William Howard Davis and Kent Worley.

Local DAR members present were Mesdames Emma Schoen, Janet Wilson, Reva Turner, Mamie Frohardt, Mildred Whyters, Barbara Williams, Margaret Bell, Helen Gantcheff, Ruth Mitchell, Joann Burkey, Gladys Chapman and Misses Nelle Hart, Ella Ray Smith and Mary Candler. Other local guests were Miss Jeanette Kampen and Mrs. Laura Taylor.

Local Good Citizens and their parents are invited to attend the state dinner for the Good Citizens which will be held in Springfield Saturday, March 13. Several local DAR members are planning to be present at the dinner which will climax to the annual DAR state convention, scheduled at Forum 30 in Springfield, March 11, 12 and 13.

Rhonda Buckingham is party honoree

Rhonda Buckingham, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Buckingham, 1644 Olive St., was honored on her seventh birthday at a party last week, hosted by her parents.

A Minnie Mouse theme was carried out in the party decorations and cake.

Several games were played and prizes were awarded to the winners.

Those present were Vernon and Tina Fleetwood, Jeanette Teacher, Sherrie Valencia, Michelle Wheatley, Angie Green, Tammy Goodall, Rachelle Matheny and the honoree's brother, Ronnie Buckingham Jr.

Mrs. Doris Wilson, chapter child care chairman and a candidate for queen, was escorted by her husband, Robert. Serving as pages were Gina Hamilton and Janie Chastain.

As the queen received her honors she wore the traditional red velvet cape and carried a bouquet of red and white carnations. Each of the attendants held a nosegay of carnations and received a jeweled tiara.

The remainder of the evening was spent dancing to the music of the "Four Seasons."

Mrs. Harrelson will lead special gospel singing. The Rev. McKinney also announced that at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, March 5, a special showing of the film, "The Burning Hell," will be interwoven in the sermon.

No admission charge will be made and the services and film showing is open to the public.

Circle fetes birthday members

Washington's birthday was celebrated at the February meeting of Lydia Circle held last week at Nameoki United Methodist Church.

Conforming to the Bicentennial year a birthday cake, decorated in red, white and blue, was served. Special honors were accorded Mrs. Vergie Barks, circle chairman, and Mrs. Ethel Seymour on their birthdays.

Mrs. Mary Bailey, hostess, used arrangements of yellow daffodils and pussy willows to center the refreshment tables.

The opening prayer was given by Mrs. Barks and the devotions, entitled "Portals of Prayer" by O. P. Fretzman, were presented by Mrs. Marian Whittaker.

Plans for a birthday party in May for residents at Colonial Haven Nursing Home were reviewed. Mrs. Barks said jewelry items and other small gifts are needed for the project. Additionally, nylon stockings are being collected to make decorative pillows for the patients.

Mrs. Gladys Russell offered the dismissal prayer. Others present were Mesdames Lucille Webb, Jessie Sayers, Violet Miller, Viola Thornsberry, Effie Vrenick, Mildred Hess, Frances Reid, Helen Metcalf and Pauline Mahon.

Mrs. Seymour will serve as hostess at the March 11 meeting at the church.
